Introduction

What is a world, a life, without visions and dreams? Our lives are composed of the visions of the young and the dreams of the old. Without the visions of what could be and the dreams of what once was, we could never content ourselves with what is.

Each generation comes along with new visions of a better world, a better life. As the years go by, some visions are lost and become dreams of what once was.

The young people today cry out for a better world in which to live, to love, to get an education. No longer are we contented with the materialistic society of past generations. It is up to us to make our visions become realities which we can someday relive in our dreams.

Greeks Exhibit Fellowship In Greek Week Fun

Climaxing Greek activities during the year, Greek Week was celebrated last spring quarter by the social fraternities and sororities on campus. The week of April 18-25 with its games, concerts, and open houses was designed to illustrate Greek unity and to instill the idea of brotherhood among the organizations themselves.

The Greek houses arranged open houses for visiting parents while dinners were planned in honor of retiring President Doudna. Other activities included the Sigma Sigma Sigma charity carnival, the Greek Sing, games and a concert by Neil Diamond.

Wednesday night of Greek Week was the traditional Tri-Sig carnival with all the money earned from the games and booths going to charity. Saturday featured the Greek Games during the day with races such as the trike and chariot races and the tug-of-war across the campus pond, while that night was highlighted by the Neil Diamond concert.

Dorm Rats Jailed, Jellied During Hall Week

Last May dorms displayed their unity in the first resident hall week held on Eastern's campus. WELH kicked off the week's activities with a call-towin contest. Various activities highlighting the week included free movies, dances, a picnic, and a carnival at which students participated in diverse activities such as buying kisses, putting their "enemies" in jail, and purchasing crafts. A semi-formal dance featuring "Sly, Slick, and the Wicked" ended the week's activities. McKinney and Thomas Halls were announced as over-all winners of the hall week intramurals.

Doudna Gives Final Diplomas At Graduation

Climaxing years of study, excitement, and hard work, graduation was foremost in the minds of seniors as they marched up to receive their diplomas.

Quincy Dounda, retiring Eastern President, presented the certificates to students in Lincoln Field Stadium last spring.

Although some would be faced with the threat of a job shortage, a sigh of relief was breathed by all as they walked away from the speaker's platform with their sheepskins in hand.

UPPER: Retiring President Dounda presents this student with his hardearned diploma. LOWER: Students, parents and friends watch as commencement exercises take place in Lincoln Stadium.

Sporty's, Student Memories Crumble In Flames

The Sportsman's Lounge, better known as Sporty's, was totally destroyed as it burned to the ground on January 16, 1972. A favorite student hang-out, Sporty's had been in business since 1959, under the ownership of Jim Griffith until 1966 when Richard Hahn became the owner.

Several original paintings done by Eastern students were destroyed in the fire. Included was a mural painted by Britton Zabka entitled "A Tribute to the Moon."

All that remained of Sporty's was a thick layer of ice, covering memories held by many Eastern students.

While in business, Sporty's was one of the most populated spots in Charleston. A good way to meet people was to visit Sporty's any time during the week.

The arrangement of Sporty's satisfied different interests. The downstairs portion offered the enjoyment of bands, while the upstairs provided a place for students to sit and converse. In one section, sandwiches were sold and pool tables were available. Everyone who went to Sporty's always managed to enjoy themselves. It's everyone's hope that Sporty's will rebuild or relocate, so that students can have a chance to relive the good times they once had.

Bars Packed, Scholars Find Second Home

Eastern students found the bars in Charleston a great place to socialize. Various nights during the week, each bar provided some entertainment or served as a place to relax.

One of the newest highlights this past summer was the opening of Ted's Warehouse. Ted's had a variety of entertainment,—folk singers, bands, and "free" popcorn. Containing a sandwich shop and three levels, Ted's became favorite spot to take a date or just go stag.

Located across from Old Main, Ike's was an ideal spot for those who liked to stay near campus. A casual atmosphere was maintained as students relaxed and talked with one another. A television provided entertainment for those who preferred to sit at the bar and try to forget their school woes.

Roc's four o'clock club gave students the opportunity to unwind after a hard week of classes. A live rock band located upstairs in the bar proved that Roc's was the place to go on Friday afternoons.

Many students took advantage of the special prices on drinks after basket-ball games at the Rendezvous, located on the square. Greeks especially used this pub as gathering place.

UPPER: Students enjoy "soaking up the suds" at Ike's during a break in classes. LOWER: Jeannie Moyer displays her charm as she waits on tables in Ted's Warehouse.

Coeds Dazzled, Diamond Sings, Thomas Solos

Throughout the year the Student Activities Board sponsored several concerts by popular singers and groups. Such performers as Oliver, B. J. Thomas and the Serendipity Singers entertained the students, as well as the faculty and visiting parents.

The concert which climaxed the spring quarter Greek Week activities was given by the popular Neil Diamond. His personal easy-going style captivated the audience as he spoke and sang. The crowded gym rocked with clapping hands as he sang such hits as "Kentucky Woman", "Sweet Caroline", and "Brother Love's Traveling Salvation Show".

Highlighting the annual Parents Weekend fall quarter was a concert featuring the hit singer, B. J. Thomas. Appealing to both sides of the generation gap, Thomas sang several songs including "Most of All" and "So Lonesome I Could Cry" as well as his popular version of "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head".

Frula Spreads Culture, Music At Eastern

Thirty-six members of the Yugoslavian dance group Frula visited Eastern's campus fall quarter. The group performed before a crowd in McAfee Gymnasium.

Highlighting the performance were dances of Arabian, Moorish, Turkish, Greek, Spanish, and European background.

Sponsored by the Artist Series Board, the group dazzled the audience with many acrobatic feats and flowing music.

Sandy Book Reigns As 1971-'72 Homecoming Queen

Eastern's 56th annual Homecoming, with its returning alumni, decorated floats, and assorted activities, was held winter quarter October 26-31. The tradition of Homecoming, dating back to 1915, hadn't lost anything over the years, but seemed to improve with time.

The activities began on Tuesday, October 26, with a pep rally. At this time the new Homecoming queen and her court were announced. Reigning during the year were Sandy Book, of Alpha Gamma Delta, and her court consisting of first runner-up Jane Higgins, second runner-up Shirley Enke, third runner-up Joanne Plessner, and freshman attendant Cindy Eckle.

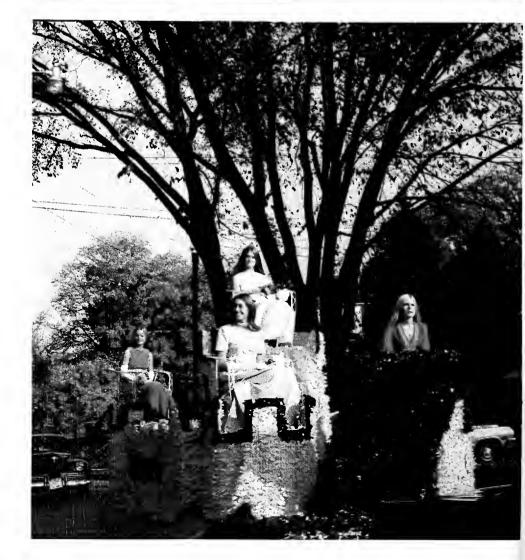

Highlight of the Homecoming weekend was the Oliver concert on Friday night. Oliver enthralled the audience in Lantz Gym with his million record hits, "Good Morning Star Shine" and "Jean".

This year the Theatre Arts contribution to the Homecoming activities was the Charles McArthur newspaper comedy "The Front Page." This rollicking classic dealt with the rough and ready life of newspaper reporters in the roaring twenties. Long hair, beards, and moustaches were shaved as the cast shed its 1970's appearance to assume the look of 1929.

Capping off the activities was the double-dance choice, the coronation dance with music by America, Inc. and a rock dance featuring John Brown's Body.

Alpha Gam's Delta Chi's, Thomas Hall 1st In Floats

The Homecoming parade consisting of more than one hundred units of floats, bands, and cars, was held Saturday, October 30.

Clowns and colorful floats wooed the crowd as they viewed the parade from Seventh, Lincoln, Grant, and Fourth streets.

The men of Thomas Hall captured first place in the independent division. Delta Chi fraternity and the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority split the Greek division with their combined float.

UPPER: The men of Pi Kappa Alpha ride into view on their fire engine Homecoming parade entry. LOWER: The combined Alpha Gam-Delta Chi float which won the fraternity sorority division comes into view.

Dorms, Greeks Commercialize House Decs

This year's overall theme for Home-coming house decs and floats was television commercials, and the imaginations ran wild. From Lawson Hall's "Panthers Please don't Squeeze the Bears" to Thomas Hall's first place winning dec "Bears—Breakfeast of Champions," the dorms were well decorated for the festivities.

In the Greek division, the house decs were varied, too. The Sigma Pi's representation of the Budweiser Clydesdale horses won first place with an elaborate representation of the "King of Bears."

The women of Delta Zeta and the men of Sigma Tau Gamma donated the money that was allocated to spend on Homecoming floats and house decs to three-year-old Natasha Combs, afflicted with a malignant brain tumor.

Gridders, Booters Victorious

Kicking off the Homecoming football game was the traditional welcome of the opposing team by Eastern's greeter. This year's pretty coed was Mary White, of Belleville, the LSD-complex candidate.

The Panthers went on to win the closely-fought game by a score of 32-21. Before the football contest, Eastern's booters had stomped Western by a 4-1 score.

Sororities Participate In Derby Days

Continuing with the Sigma Chi tradition, Eastern's newest national fraternity sponsored its version of Derby Days September 19 - 25.

Hoping to promote fun for the sororities and offering the fraternity members an opportunity to meet more of the Greek girls the Sigma Chis provided a packed week of fun and entertainment.

Monday night fraternity members visited sorority houses in an effort to increase spirit for the week-long activities.

Tuesday found the fraternity members hosting a barbecue for sorority participants at the Sigma Chi house. Barb Becker, Alpha Gamma, was announced as the Derby Darling at the barbecue.

Wednesday, sororities participated in the yard and one-half contest. Each house was given a yard and one-half of material and was required to make a swimming suit. Suits were judged on the basis of originality and boldness. Results of the contest were figured into the balloting for the over-all trophy.

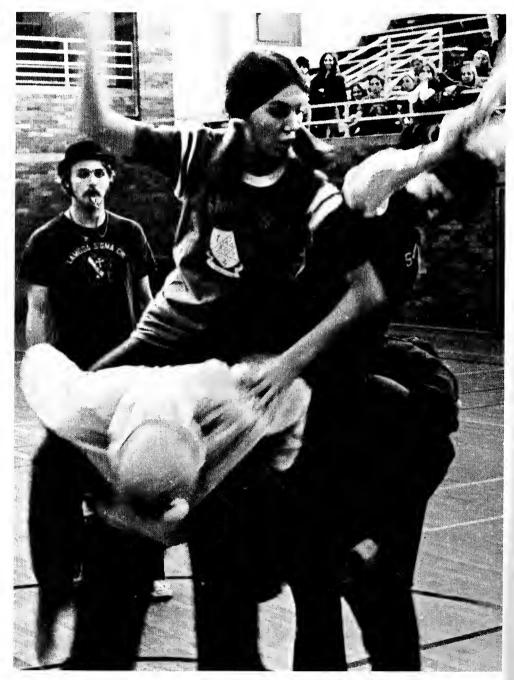

Fraternity members serenaded each sorority on Thursday night as they participated in the "Deck" n' Active" competition.

Friday was declared "Chase Day" as fraternity men were pursued by sorority women who sought their Derby Day hats.

Climaxing the week long activities were the games on Saturday held in McAfee Gym. Sororities competed in different events in an effort to win the Derby Days Games trophy. The KD's won the trophy while the Alpha Gams scored as runner-ups.

Spock Views, Maddox Stirs In Delivery

Eastern's Lecture Series Board has brought a wide range of controversial and political speakers throughout the past years. This year, speakers ranged from outspoken pediatrician Dr. Benjamin Spock, to Georgia's Lt. Governor Lester Maddox.

Wanting to break his baby doctor image, Spock spoke on the United States entanglement in Southeast Asia to a crowd in McAfee Gym, fall quarter.

Lester Maddox, former governor of Georgia and presently that state's Lt. Governor, spoke in favor of states' rights and the state's control of its own functioning.

UPPER: Kelvin Gilchrist, Student Chairman of the Lecture Series Board, discusses his views with Lester Maddox prior to Maddox's February appearance. LOWER: Dr. Benjamen Spock emphasizes a point during a pre-speech press conference.

Candidates Campaign For Student Vote

With the 18-year-old vote now in effect, the greater influence of the college campus vote was felt during the election year.

Several potential candidates seeking student support in their primary bids for differing offices came and spoke to Eastern students.

Dan Walker and his running mate. Neal Eckert, who sought the Democratic ticket nomination for Governor and Lt. Governor of Illinois, both spoke at differing times winter quarter. These men stressed the hope of ridding Illinois of its political machinery with their election.

United States Senator Edmund Muskie, who was also looking to the primaries, spoke to Eastern students February 4.

Muskie, the Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate in 1968, was on tour drumming up student support in his bid for the nomination for the presidency.

Two Dorms Go Co-ed

Beginning this year Carman and Taylor Halls provided students the opportunity to enjoy co-ed living.

This atmosphere enabled dorm rats to enjoy each other's company in the cafeteria, TV room, and recreation room.

New open house rules were adopted by all of the dorms this year, making visitation privileges more frequent.

Open houses provided the opportunity for mixed social gatherings in the room such as watching TV, relaxation with a date or friend, card games, practical jokes, popcorneating contests and coke parties.

UPPER: Trying to make dorm life a little brighter, students decorate their windows. BOTTOM: Taking a few moments between classes, these co-eds stop to talk in the lobby of Lawson Hall.

Off-Campus Housing Provides Change

The possibilities of lower cost, fewer regulations, freedom of having guests at any time, and the convenience of cooking meals at times more suitable to their schedules lured many students to find off-campus housing.

Eastern students who met the qualifications could move into either approved or unapproved housing. In both cases greater freedom was provided by the informal atmosphere and the privacy of an apartment, trailer, or house.

While students left dorm friends behind, they soon gained new acquaintances. Their new housing also provided the stimulus for independence and responsibility. Daily duties, like washing dishes and cleaning up, made them realize the effort it takes to run a household. Paying the utility bills produced an awareness in some students that will remain with them for a long time.

Married Students Find Relaxation At Home

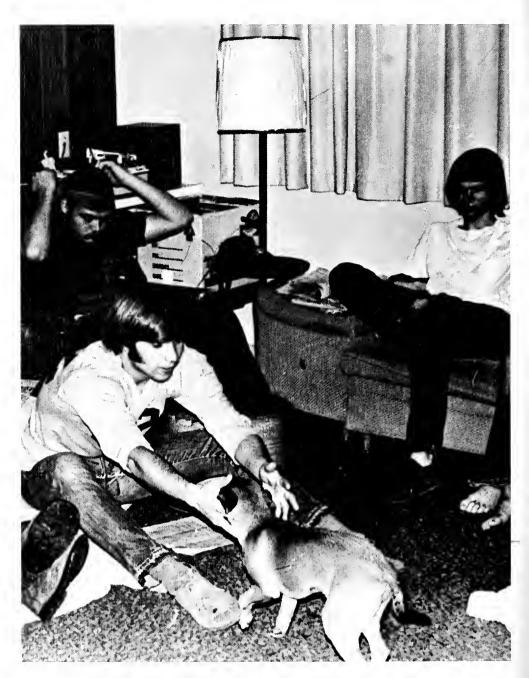

An increasing number of married students compromised Eastern's student body this year. Many found it just as easy to go to school while they were married as single.

University supplied housing as well as private houses and apartments located throughout the area offered inexpensive rates suitable for the income of married students.

Although the usual tasks of married life still took up a large portion of their time, married students still managed to get out and participate in campus activities.

Sometimes after a busy school day, married students were contented just being at home, relaxing with their family.

Students Sing, Rap, Picnic During Free Time

The union became crowded during float hours, as everyone seemed to be drawn into the social world.

Although movies, dances and other campus activities played a big role in Eastern social life, coeds managed to devote a great amount of time to their own special interests.

Ted's, Ike's, and Sporty's were favorite spots to hit, while shopping, picnicing and swimming were also pleasurable pastimes. Even bull sessions helped to pass the time when one just liked to relax.

Student Activities Board Presents Movies, 'Trash'

Even though the Student Activities Board provided concerts for Eastern, they continue to avert monotony on campus by sponsoring other activities for students, including the Registration Dance and Float Z.

Movies were presented every Friday and Saturday night at the Lab School with only a twenty-five cent admission charge. Occasionally McAfee Gym served as host for first-rate flicks that were sure to draw large crowds.

Perhaps the biggest attraction brought to Eastern by the SAB was "Trash of the Thirties." A rolling comedy about life in the 1930's, Trash came to the campus on December 11, 1971.

Trash contained live performances, movie clippings, recordings, and most of all, audience participation. Students who attended received kazoos and party hats and left singing songs of the era.

Students Win Coles County Voting Rights

Armed with the power to vote, many students attempted to declare their residency in Charleston during the voter's registration drive fall quarter. They were met head-on by County Clerk Harry Grafton.

The voter registration drive, sponsored by the local ACLU chapter, saw some students registered in Coles County, but the vast majority were turned away, either denied the right to register by Grafton or unable to see him while the drive was still on.

Those students who were denied voting privileges were counseled by ACLU lawyers to determine if there were any points that could be used in court. However, the local chapter did not have the opportunity to prepare a case for the courts. The ACLU chapter from Champaign filed a suit on behalf of U of I students faced with the same problem before action could be taken in Charleston.

Hoping that the case would benefit the students, the local chapter decided to wait for a decision. The court ruled in favor of the ACLU and ordered that students be allowed to register if they fulfill residency requirements. Grafton heeded this ruling of the judge, and began to register students without asking them indiscriminate questions.

After the decision was announced, many students again went to the courthouse to register—this time successfully.

UPPER: Ellen Schanzle passes out information in the Coles County Courthouse at the voter registration drive sponsored by the ACLU fall quarter. LOWER: Harry Grafton, Coles County Clerk, informs Phyllis Honnold of her responsibilities as she attempts to secure her voting privileges in Charleston.

Students Demonstrate Desire For Peace

Attempting to inform the university community of their desires for peace, some Eastern students staged and participated in last spring's moratorium.

Students were urged to cut classes and attend workshops during the day. Speakers were also featured in the University Quad and interested students participated in a candlelight procession.

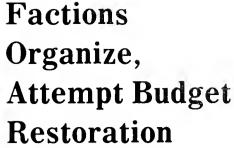

An uptown march was also taken by students in an effort to demonstrate their concern for the hostile situation throughout the world.

UPPER: With her candle lit for peace, this student listens to pre-march speakers at the University Quad. LOWER: Attempting to make Charleston residents aware of their desires, students march through the downtown business district.

Hoping to convince state legislators to override Governor Richard B. Ogilvie's veto of funds earmarked for higher education, students and faculty members traveled to Springfield in November.

Although their attempts proved futile, demonstrators did manage to communicate their feelings to some lawmakers. After the vote was tallied, higher education in Illinois seemed doomed, according to many educators.

However, the students did manage to convince some legislators that the education group did have some lobbying power.

UPPER: Hoping to sway state legislators to their side, these Eastern students wait outside the capitol building in Springfield. LOWER: These demonstrators listen to various speakers in opposition to Governor Ogilvie's veto.

Drama Provides Song, Thought In Productions

Various avenues of dramatic thought were presented by the drama department this year. Highlighting spring quarter "The Sound of Music" offered the campus an interesting and entertaining musical.

"The Front Page", this year's Homecoming play, topped off the week's festivities.

Various Five O'Clock Theatres filled in the cultural gap during the year. Each quarter's production, directed by drama students, offered the opportunity to gain a larger insight of students' dramatic abilities.

5 O'clocks, Musicals Presented

The theatre arts department worked closely together to once again bring a taste of dramatic culture to Eastern's campus. The department presented various 5 O'clock productions, many of which were written and directed by theatre students themselves.

One area of the theatre world which was examined in the 5 O'clock productions was "A World of Mine". This dealt strictly with different pantomimes performed by the players without the use of lines or elaborate props.

The reader's theatre production for winter quarter was "Heartbreak House" by George Bernard Shaw. This play was one of Shaw's many scripts dealing with love and marriage.

The burlesque opera "Orpheus in the Underworld" was brought to Eastern by the Artist Series Board. Performed by the Canadian Opera Company, it dealt with Orpheus' somewhat jilted journey into Hades to retrieve his wife, Eurycides. The opera satirized every major mythological god that it could possibly include.

Who's Who Students 1971-72

Exemplifying student activism at Eastern, 25 students were chosen as campus leaders for the Who's Who in American Colleges. Those students not pictured include: John Bacone, Earl Baucum, Curley Bradford, Sue Campbell, Steven Contois, James Gibson, Mary Hawkins, Michael Jeffries, Phil Lindberg, Robert Maxson, Martha McIntyre, Pat O'Donovan, Lynn Ohrenstein, Mary Olson, Linda Pheil, Linda Rucker, Roger Yates, and James Zumwalt.

Everyday Life Means Most

The drive to get students registered to vote in Charleston, the off-campus housing probe, the attempt to restore funds to higher education, and the wave of political figures visiting Eastern all helped to make the 1971-1972 academic year unique.

But it will be the small occurences that students will remember about the year. The water fights in the dorm, the midnight walks with a friend, the cake that didn't turn out, the birthday party that your roommate surprised you with, the first time you got drunk, the snowball fight at two in the morning, the late-night meeting in the lounge, the ups and downs of school work, the eight o'clock class that you missed too much, the first all-nighter, waiting for the pizza to come, cramming for that exam, fishing at Lake Charleston, swimming and sunbathing spring and summer quarters, traveling to away games, studying in the mall, Saturday football games, spending hours in the library, socializing in the Panther Lair, drinking at Ike's, walking uptown, buying the first Eastern t-shirt, meeting new friends, chasing friends through the stacks, talking to the girls' dorm late at night, watching the windows in Lawson Hall, going to rush parties, surging forward in a panty raid, throwing the RA in the campus pond, mutilating the dorm food, losing your ID, standing in the add lines, paying the fine for the overdue library book, sneaking the guest past the RA's room, dancing in the union, watching the greek games, making candles in the dorm, freezing in the cold during the fire alarm, sitting in the waiting room of the Health Service, forgetting the umbrella, watching the Five O'clock Theatre, long walks in the rain, typing the term paper, and cleaning the room can all be recalled by most students.

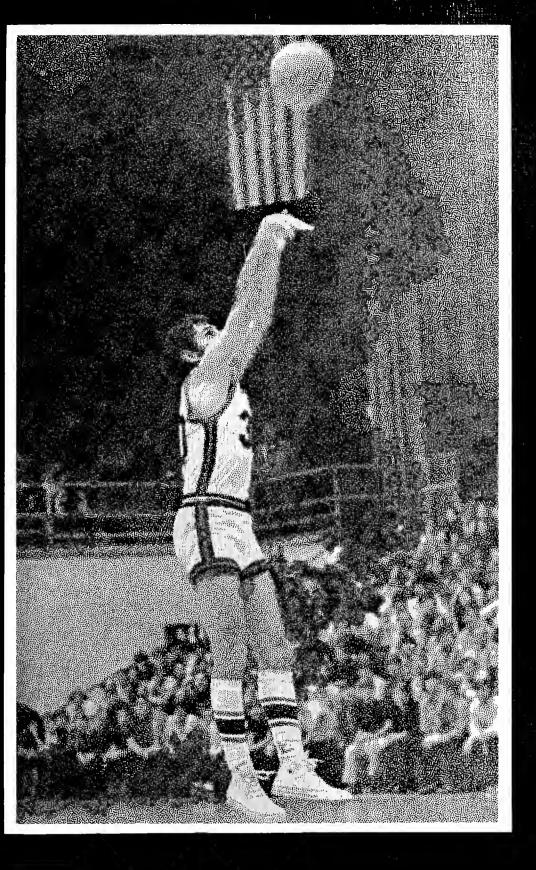

While Charleston didn't offer the cultural opportunities that a large city does, there were things to do at Eastern if students took the time to notice them.

Sports

Sports 1971-72

Eastern's athletic endeavors have proved fruitful in many ways during the past season.

In the spring, golf, tennis, baseball, and track were the main events. The baseball team, posted a 25-12 record and placed second in the NAIA District 20 Tournament. The tennis team placed first in the NAIA District 20 Tournament and brought their season's record to 10-2. The linkmen also finished first in the NAIA District 20 Tournament while posting a final record of 11-7. The track team finished their season with a fine 3-1 record.

Fall brought football, soccer, and cross country. The gridmen improved on last year's record by posting a 4-6 mark. The soccer team also improved somewhat on last year's record by finishing their season with a 5-6-3 mark. The cross country squad posted an excellent 7-1 overall record.

During the winter, basketball, gymnastics, swimming, and wrestling were prominent, with all posting good, if not excellent, overall results. At midseason, EIU's basketball Panthers were rated eighth in the nation in smaller colleges. Both the swimmers and gymnasts finished with good season records, while the wrestlers held on to a stable winloss record.

Sports at Eastern Illinois University during the 1971-72 seasons were, to say the least, diverse. A favorable outlook is in store for EIU sports fans for a bigger and even better year to come.

Varsity Football

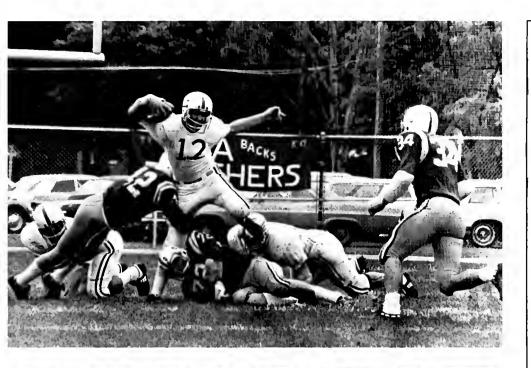

The 1971 Panther football campaign ended on somewhat of a disappointing note. It had been hoped that this year's team would be the first in 21 years to win at least five games. This mark was not equalled, though, as the Panthers lost the season finale. The loss was the team's sixth as opposed to four wins.

Several new school records were set during the 1971 season. Quarterback Ron Gustafson became the all-time offensive leader as he set records for yards gained passing and total offense. Running back Ken Werner set a single-season rushing record of 740 yards. He is the holder of the career rushing mark with a total of 1526 vards. Defensive back Mike Grier ranked among the national leaders with his eleven interceptions. End Mark O'Donnell became the all-time leading receiver with 104 catches for 1375 yards in his two-vear career. Sophomore flanker Willie White set the single-season reception mark with 65 receptions for 915 yards.

In addition to their school records, Grier and Werner were named to the NAIA All-District 20 first team along with linebacker Chuck Tassio. Tassio accounted for the most tackles during the season. Ron Gustafson and Willie White also received honorable mention for the All-District 20 team.

Junior Varsity Football

The junior-varsity football team, led by Coach Jack Dean, compiled a 3-1 record against such teams as the University of Evansville, Millikin, Illinois Wesleyan, and Western Illinois. The J-V squad is composed of players who were unable to make the first two units of the varsity.

The defensive unit was anchored by Bob Culp, Rick Dahl, Dan Hussey, and Mike Shanahan. The offense was led by quarterback Joe Hume, running back Thad Scott, Greg Browne, Mike Wilson, Greg Carter, and Grant Grubaugh.

Coach Dean hoped that the experience gained by the younger players in the junior-varsity games would prove valuable to them in their varsity competition.

UPPER: Defensive backs Mike Grier and Nate Anderson combining to break up an Evansville pass. LOW-ER: Mike Shanahan keeps close tabs on the intended receiver.

Basketball Wins Twenty

The 1971-72 EIU cage season was one of the most successful in the history of the school. This was the first time since the 1951-52 season that the Panthers reached the coveted 20-win plateau.

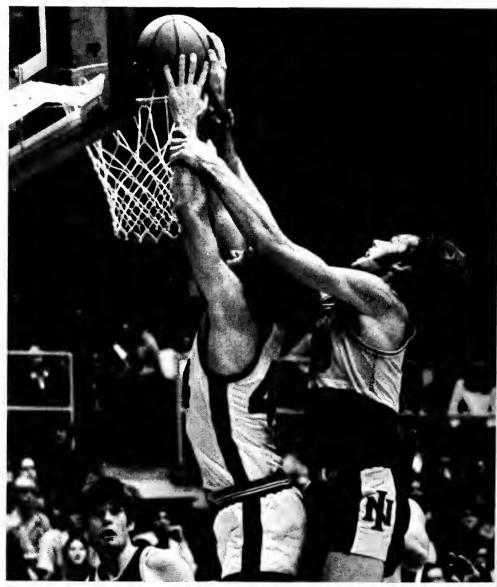

This year's Panthers were the most prolific scorers in school history. The team averaged 86.1 points per game on the way to posting a 20-10 win-loss record. Scott Keeve and Bill Thommen led the scoring with 17.1 and 17.0 points per game respectively. This marked the second consecutive year that Keeve, a junior, led the team in scoring. Thommen led in rebounds with 274, an average of 9.1 per game.

Coach Don Eddy's Panthers garnered first place in the Chip Cage Classic, defeating such perennial rivals as Illinois State and host Central Michigan. The Panthers finished fourth in the Arkansas State Invitational. In the NAIA playoffs, the cagers captured the District 20 Independent School Playoff, but dropped the NAIA District 20 playoff to a strong Augusta team, 90-76.

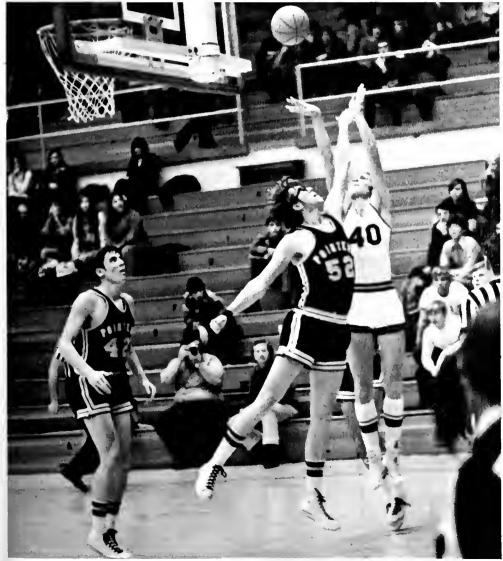

All of the 1971-72 Panthers will be returning next year, with the exception of senior guards Gary Yoder and Mike Yates. Yoder played in all 82 varsity games covering his past three years. During that span, he became the fourth leading scorer in EIU history averaging 13.9 points per game during his three-year career. He also set a school free throw percentage record during the 1969-70 season.

Soccer

The 1971 Soccer team posted an overall record of 5-6-3 in a schedule that included four nationally-ranked teams in the top ten.

At midseason, Head Coach Fritz Teller's booters lost to Quincy College in the University of Wisconsin-Parkside Tourney Championship round by a score of 2-1, to place second in the tournament.

In the N.A.I.A. District 20 tournament, the Panthers again placed second through a loss to Quincy College, 1-0. Quincy later went on to win the N.A.I.A. National Championship.

The team's best asset was its rugged defensive play. The defense was led by Paul Engelmeyer, John Polacek, and sophomore goalie Chuck Weisberg. Weisberg was also voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates.

The offense was led by junior Gerardo Pagnani, who was voted onto the District 20 All-Star team, the All-Midwest team, and the All-N.A.I.A. national team.

The District 20 All-Star team was also made by John Polacek, Chuck Weisberg, Tony Durante, Carmelo Rago, Nick Markulin, and Paul Engelmeyer.

Next year, Coach Teller expects great results out of a team that will have twelve returning lettermen talented with depth and speed.

Baseball

The 1971 baseball season marked the best ever produced by an Eastern team. Head Coach Bill McCabe's diamondmen finished with a 25-12 record, besides finishing second in the District 20 NAIA tournament.

The pitching staff remained strong all year to comprise an E.R.A. average of 3.16. The starting pitching rotation was composed of Dave Diamond (7-0), Tony DeMichael (4-5), Mike Emerson (6-2) and Larry Micenheimer (5-2).

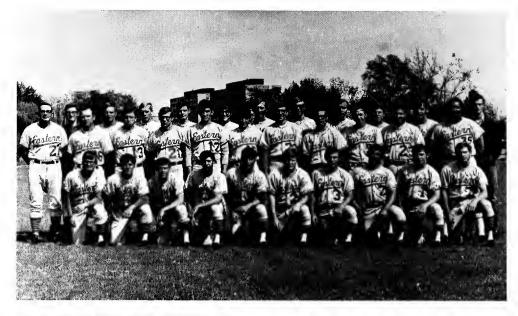

The Panthers as a team hit for an average of .241, but won many games with clutch hitting. The team's leading hitters were Mike Janik at 1289, Craig Miller at .286, and the team's most valuable player, Randy Trapp, who batted .314.

Eastern played consistent baseball throughout the season, but the highlight of the year was the double-header they swept from the University of Illinois, with Dave Diamond shutting out the Illini on a no-hitter.

Eastern re-wrote the record book in several categories including their 25 wins. The Panthers stole 79 bases and collected 43 doubles to break all previous records in those categories. McCabe achieved his winning game as a college coach while raising his winning percentage to .582.

This year Coach McCabe's 'inine' will attempt to improve last year's performance while breaking more records.

Track

The EIU track team enjoyed a fine season as they rolled up a 3-1 record and captured first place in the Northern Invitational and third in the Illinois Intercollegiate Championships, which pitted the team against the University of Illinois and Southern Illinois at Carbondale. Many school records also fell to a team that Coach Maynard O'Brien called one of his strongest ever.

This year's team included two All-Americans, Rod Jackson and Ken Jacobi. Jackson won the honors in the NAIA indoors and the NCAA outdoors, while Jacobi received All-American status in both the NAIA and NCAA indoor and outdoor events. Jackson set school records in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 440-yard intermediate hurdles, and was part of the record-breaking 360vard shuttle team, as well as part of the 440-yard, 880-yard, and mile relay teams. Jacobi set a record in the 880 yard run, and was part of the mile and two mile relay teams.

Other team records were set by Mike Davis in the pole vault, Bill Keiper in the high jump, Roger Einbecker in the discus, Sandy Osei-Agyeman in the 100- and 200-yard dashes, Jim Skinner in the 3-mile run, and Ken Klipp in the 6-mile run.

The team captain, Ken Klipp also received the EIU Senior Scholastic Award. Rod Jackson was elected the team's most valuable player.

John Craft, who set the school triple jump record in 1969, was the National AAU triple jump champion. He also represented the United States in the Pan American games.

The outlook for the next track season could be nothing but bright, because many of the members of the team who set 14 school records will be returning.

Tennis

The 1971 tennis team made a vast improvement over last year's squad record of 6-6, by posting a 10-2 mark this year. Head Coach Rex Darling considered the squad as one of his best throughout his twenty-five years as tennis coach. They tied a previous Eastern record for percentage in their 1971 results.

The tennis team's first six starters were Bruce Shuman (8-4), Jim Zumwalt (8-4), Paul Noerenberg (8-4), Keith Lyon (9-3), Alfredo Velasco (8-4), and Brock Price (8-4). The other members on the team who saw action in several matches were Jeff MacDonald (1-1), Mike McHenry (1-1), Mark Tungate (2-0), and Mark Loftus (2-0).

Darling felt that this team launched the most balanced attack of any team he has had at Eastern. The starting six had almost identical records, which proves the strength of this tennis team, since the fourth to sixth spot on a team tends to be weaker in ratio to the first three spots.

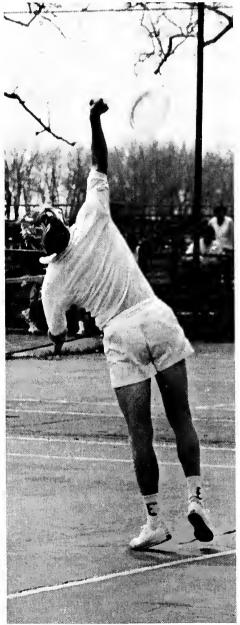

The 1971 netmen also competed in the Midwest Invitational at Whitewater, Wisconsin and the NAIA finals at Kansas City, Missouri during the season. At the Midwest Invitational, the Panthers finished fourth out of eight teams. In the NAIA finals, the team did a tremendous job of finishing seventh out of fifty-two teams.

During the regular season, the netmen conquered MacMurray and De-Pauw Universities with 9-0 shutouts in recording their best performances. Indiana State and Illinois State proved to have tough teams while handing the Panthers their only two losses of the season.

This year the Panthers will be looking to improve last year's record with help from their five returning lettermen and promising freshmen.

Golf

"It was a very good year" was the theme of the EIU linkmen this season. At the start of their spring competition, the future was somewhat unsteady, due to the number of newcomers to Coach Bob Carey's squad. As the season wore on, the improvements was obvious, and the season ended on the pleasant note of 12 wins and 7 losses.

Part of the success of the team was due to the consistency and depth this year's linkmen displayed. Heading the list of EIU golfers were Gaylord Burrows—Uganda, Africa, and Jim Formas—Country Club Hills, John Buerskens—Villa Grove, John Ciacco—Steger and Rick Anderson—Decatur. Among those providing excellent backup were Rich Eddy—Erie, Dave Gentry—Decatur and John Easter—Charleston.

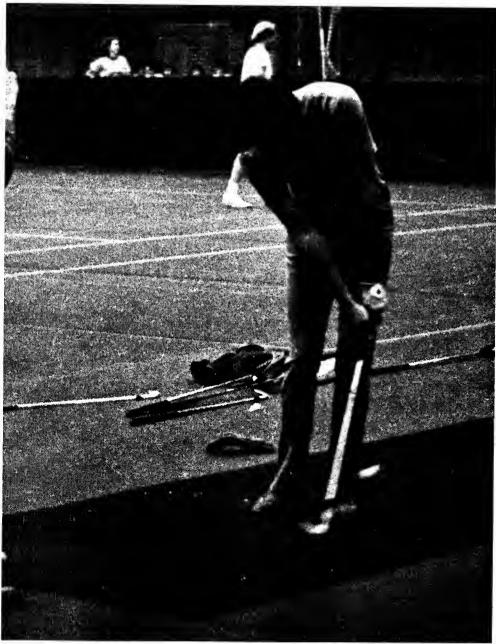

One exciting highlight of this season was the NAIA District 20 Tournament. At the close of regular play, Eastern Illinois and Western Illinois were tied. The two teams went into a sudden death, and at the finish of the hole, were still tied. A second hole was played, and finally, after two sudden death playoffs, Eastern was victorious. As a result, the linkmen travelled to Rockford Country Club for the NAIA Nationals, a second consecutive time for them.

A unique honor, and a first for Eastern, was the selection of Gaylord Burrows for competition in the NCAA National Championship Finals. Giving an excellent display of his skill, Burrows finished 30th among the many competitors, and won EIU national honors.

A good outlook for next year's team is shared by players and Coach Carey alike. With such young talent, Eastern linkmen have excellent chances of coming back strong again in 1972.

Cross Country

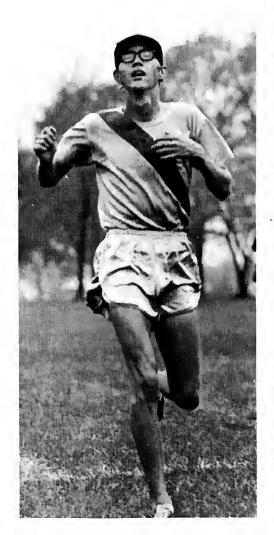

The EIU cross-country team ran to a dual meet record of 7-1, duplicating last year's mark. The squad was led by captain Jim Skinner, the only departing runner. Skinner finished first for Eastern in every meet but one. The majority of the team was composed of sophomores, spearheaded by most valuable runner Ron Lancaster, Ben Timson, Rich Bowman, Ken Jacobi, Rick Livesey, and Bill Been.

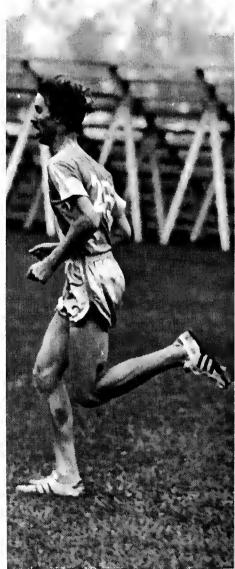

The team competed against 106 teams from across the country. In the State of Illinois Championships, Eastern finished third to Illinois and SIU-Carbondale. At the Notre Dame Invitational, where some of the best midwestern teams met, the Panthers finished tenth out of 23 teams. In the NCAA College Division National Championships, Eastern finished fifth out of 51 schools. In the NAIA National Championships, the Panther harriers ended up sixth out of 43 teams.

With a young, experienced squad returning next season, the Panthers figure to be tough. The team will be looking to bring another NAIA crown to Eastern.

Gymnastics Has Fine 10-5 Record

The Eastern Illinois gymnasts finished their season this year with a fine 10-5 record, which proved to be The first time since 1962 that an EIU team has topped the .500 mark. Eastern was to be host to the N.A.I.A. tournament in late March. The Panthers were plagued with injuries throughout the season and were unable to keep the same lineup for more than two meets.

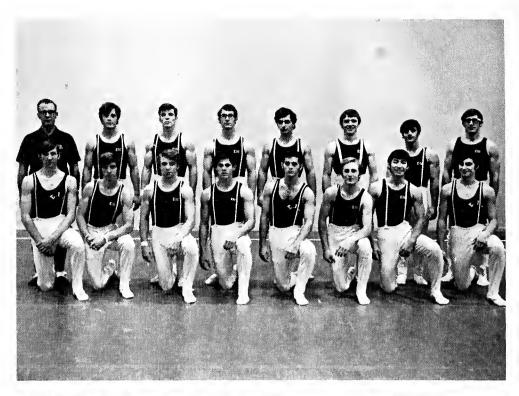

In the Mid-East League meet, the Panthers finished third of eight teams. In the meet, Keith Fuerst finished first on the still rings while Tom Beusch finished first in vaulting.

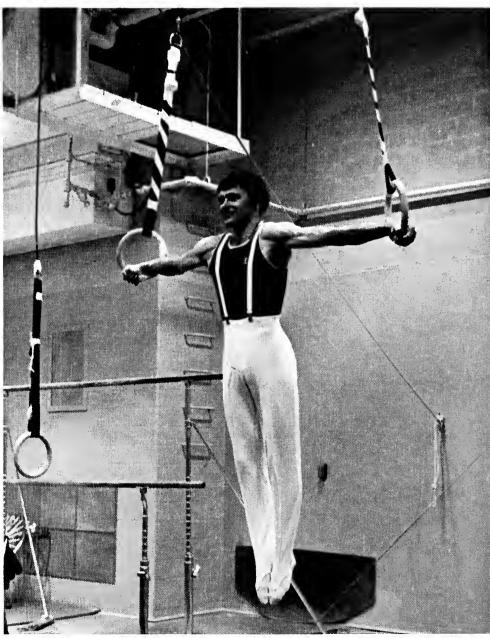

The season went well for the gymnasts and their high point in the season was their win over a well-coached Eastern Michigan. Head coach John Schaefer considered his team's low point in the season as being their loss to Western Illinois. In the Panthers' 13-year gymnastic existence, they have never beaten Western.

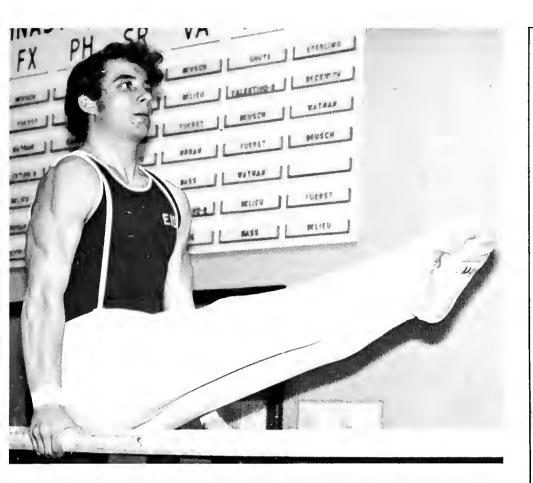

This year's team members were: Captain Tom Beusch, Terry Beckwith, Mike Moran, Mark Watman, John Valentino, Keith Fuerst, Rich Valentino, Bob Bass, Van Allen Kierzek, Tom Sterling, Roger Belieu, Chuck Stewart, Marv Paster, Dave Sakata, and Sam Garbis.

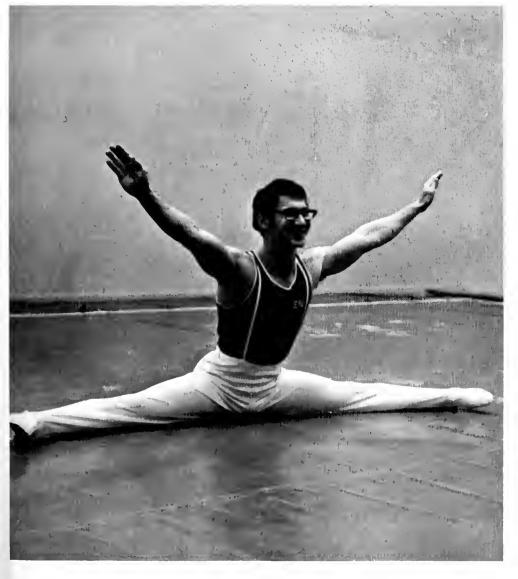

Next year the Panthers hope to have the best team in EIU history, with a squad that will boast thirteen returning lettermen.

Wrestling Ends On Even Note

This year the Eastern Illinois wrestling team finished their season with an even record. The Panthers had sixteen returning lettermen on the team.

The grapplers participated in four tournaments throughout the season—the Tennessee Tournament, the Illinois Tournament, the Southwest Missouri Tournament, and the Ashland Ohio Tournament. Of the four tournaments, the Panthers did best in the Ashland Ohio by finishing second out of an eight-team field.

The biggest accomplishment of an Eastern wrestler this year was by Duayne Nyckel, who broke the school record for most victories in a four-year career. Junior Bob Perz placed fifth in the NCAA Small College Championships.

This year's team was composed of: Kevin Bachman and Roy Johnson at 118 lbs., LeRoy Isbel, Bob Starr, Scott Brown, and Tom Laurianti at 126 lbs., Duayne Nyckel and Kevin Green at 134 lbs., Carl Benander and Greg Thorpe at 142 lbs., Scot Perz and Bill Matzker at 150 lbs., Ron McAlister at 158 lbs., Kirby Rodgers and Damon Carter at 167 lbs., Bob Perz at 177 lbs., Steve Farrel at 190 lbs., and Grant Gruball and Bruce Lane at Heavyweight.

Next year, head wrestling coach Hop Pinther hopes to improve on last year's record with 15 lettermen who are returning to the team.

Swimming Records Set By Thomas

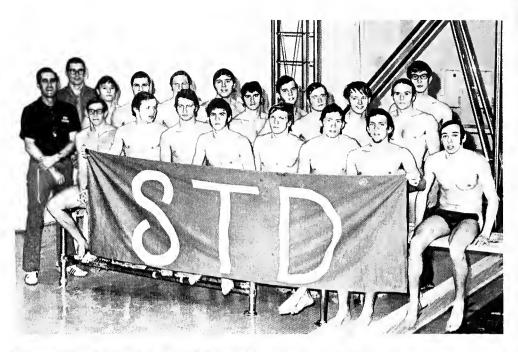

The EIU swim team, under the guidance of Coach Ray Padovan, swam to a somewhat disappointing 5-6 dual meet record this year. The mark was not as low as it appeared, due to the fact that the team was rebuilding after several key seniors graduated last year.

Led by co-captains Bob Thomas and Don Vish, the tankmen placed ninth of eleven teams in the Illinois State Relays against such teams as Purdue and Louisiana State University. In the Cincinnati Invitational, Eastern captured fourth place in a tough five-team field.

New records set this year were the sole effort of sophomore Bob Thomas. He shattered school marks in the 200 yard free-style, the 1000 yard free-style, the 200 yard backstroke and the 200 and 400 yard individual medleys.

Coach Padovan looks to improve the dual meet record next year, but it will have to be done without the services of graduating seniors Don Vish and Mike Winters.

Eight Serve As Trainers

In the training program are eight student trainers. They are—Seniors Skip Lee-Arcola, Chuck Schiller-Champaign, Rich Vana-Rosella, Juniors Gary Wilson-Erie, Mike Dority-Arlington Heights, Ken Beavers-Newton, Gene Fatheree-Xenia, and Sophomore Clyde Frankie-Rantoul.

In a program initiated this year, the trainers have welcomed three co-ed student trainers to their staff—Barbara Fauser, Catherine Wilcoxon, and Jane Brownfield.

Most of the trainers are planning careers in which training work will provide invaluable experiences, and each trainer specializes in a certain sport or sports. Skip Lee and Gary Wilson specialize in gymnastics, while Chuck Schiller and Ken Beavers work in wrestling. Gene Fatheree and Rich Vana are in football and basketball, while Mike Dority works mostly in track. Finally, Clyde Frankie concentrates in track and soccer.

The two faculty advisors are Dr. Jerry Heath, head of the Health Service, and Dennis Aten, head of student trainers. Dr. Heath, who set up the original health department here at Eastern, has been a physician at EIU for many years, Aten, head of the training program, set up the first physical therapy program, and this year has introduced co-ed student training.

Intramurals Attract Almost 75%

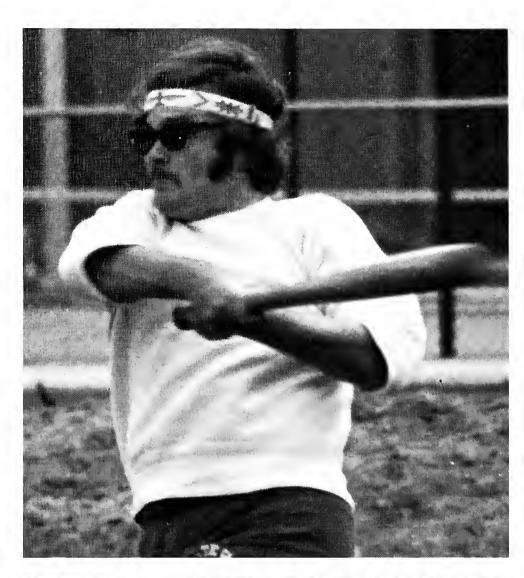

Eastern's excellent intramural program, directed by Dr. William Riordan, saw nearly three-quarters of EIU's male population participating in one intramural sport or another. The large number of participants was proof of the extensiveness of the intramural program.

Intramural activities included badminton, basketball, bowling, cross country, flag football, football skills, handball, ice hockey, swimming, soccer, water polo, weightlifting, and wrestling.

The program was divided into three divisions: fraternities, residence halls, and independents. At the end of the year, the team in each division with the highest point accumulation is the winner in that division. At the end of fall quarter, Phi Sigma Epsilon led the fraternity division with 335 points, followed by Tau Kappa Epsilon with 312. The residence hall division saw Thomas South leading with 205 total points, followed by Thomas North with 179. The Old Strokes led the independent league with 329 points, the second place leaders were Da Ghetto's with 219

Winners of the soccer title in each division were Sigma Pi, fraternity, Stevenson Down, residence hall, and the Puds, independents. Phi Sigma Epsilon won the fraternity flag football crown, with Thomas North winning in the residence hall division, and the D-Hers finishing first among the independents.

Intramurals Abound In Winter

In winter sports, the Old Strokes captured the hockey crown with a victory over the second place Teke's. Tau Kappa Epsilon also finished first in the weight-lifting events, with the Phi Sigs finishing second. The Relayers took first place in swimming, and the Sig Tau's and Delta Chi's placed second and third respectively. The bowling tournament saw the Tweety Pye's finish first, followed by Moffet's Marauders and the Ole Strokes. In cross-country competition, Da Ghetto claimed first place, followed by the Phi Sigs. In badminton, the Titans took both the singles and the doubles honors.

The intramural system permits the average athlete to compete in an organized fashion against men of his own caliber. The man who can't be a college star can still be involved in the competition of his favorite sport.

Women's Athletics Enlarges Program

Many, if not most, Eastern students are unaware that women participate in athletics, just as their male counterparts. Although EIU females have not attained the status which the men enjoy, the field is opening up to much more added interest and participation.

Popular team sports for women include field hockey, basketball, and softball. These are played in the fall, winter, and spring, respectively. In the area of individual sports, there is archery, golf, tennis, badminton, fencing, bowling, swimming, and modern dance.

Besides developing a fine, evergrowing intercollegiate program of competition, females also have the opportunity to participate in intramural activities sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association. These activities are open to any interested woman, and provide hours of enjoyment and good, healthy competition for those participants.

UPPER: Basketball is still an everpopular sport, even with women, and competition can sometimes be as tough as in the men's department. LOWER: Modern dance has shown itself to be an immensely versatile and interpretive area of activity. The highlight of the dance year is the Modern Dance Concert in the spring.

Pink Panthers

The Pink Panthers had their busiest season in 1971-72. Besides performing at home football and basketball games and serving as ball girls for the baseball and soccer teams, they traveled to the Central Michigan Chip Cage Classic, St. Joseph College, Western Illinois, Bradley, and St. Louis. They also sold programs and buttons at football and basketball games.

To become a Pink Panther, a girl must try out in either the fall or the spring, have a 2.0 grade average, and be at least a second quarter freshman.

Lynetta Mehling served as captain, with alternates Lora Hammond and Kathy Kruse taking over spring quarter.

Two Squads Lead Cheers

Throughout the 1971-72 athletic season, the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders led the student body in EIU spirit. Both squads were present at all home games and traveled to most of the away games. Due to their efforts, Eastern sports fans showed a definite increase in attendance and spirit.

Try-outs for the cheerleading squad are judged by a panel from the women's and men's physical education departments. During tryouts, a coed must compose a cheer, perform her best stunt and the splits. The women must also give a group cheer to perform along with the pompom routine and school song.

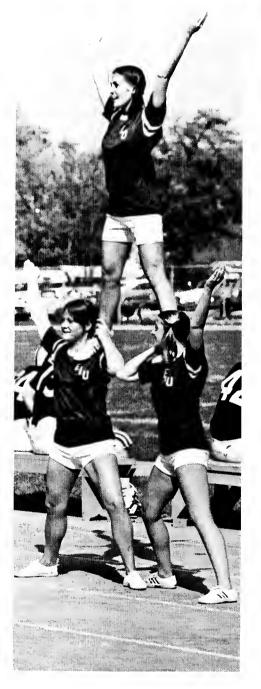

Members of this year's cheerleading squad were: Juniors Kathy Harro-Kankakee, Joanne Serdar-Waukegan, Rae Gatewood-Salem, Sophomores Judy Kleiss-Tuscola, Paula Sur-Effingham, Bobbie McKinney-Tuscola, Tami Tiahart-Belleville and alternate Patrice Barrett-Lawrence-ville.

The members of the Junior Varsity squad were: Lorie McMahon-Chicago, Barb Bell-Highland, Pat Dooley-Granite City, Irene Zonger-Charleston, Captain Dena Iverson-Chicago, Suzi Rodden-Taylorville, and alternate Colleen Wintersteen-Decatur.

This year's cheerleading advisor was Dorothy Johnson.

ACACIA

Acacia

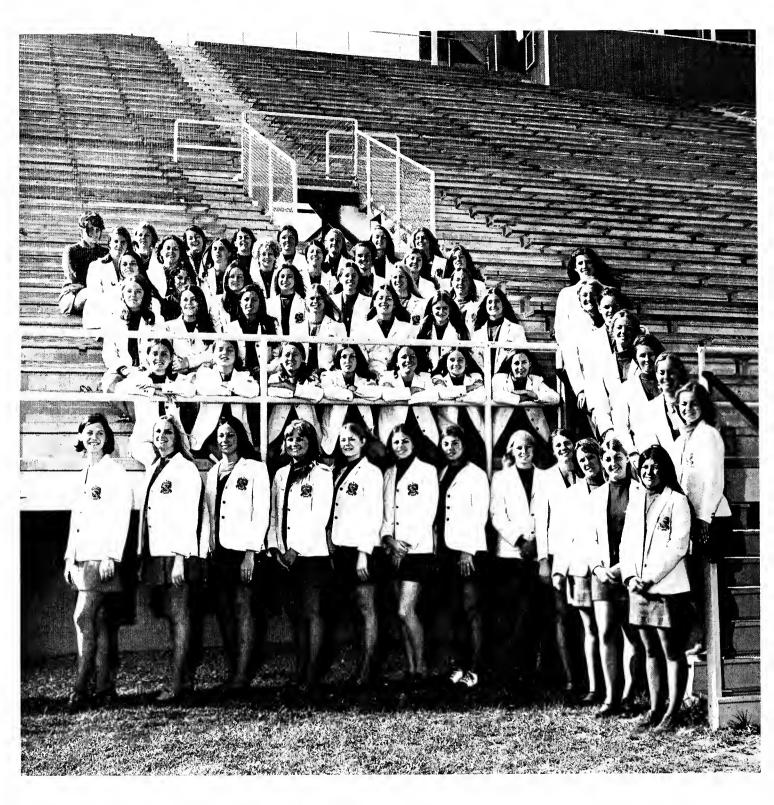

Acacians are celebrating their first anniversary on Eastern's campus. During their beginning year on campus, the men of Acacia came ever closer to their goal of nationalization, and in striving for this goal, the fraternity grew and prospered.

Fall quarter, the Acacians acquired and remodeled the first Acacia house on Eastern's campus. Their house is located at 1532 Fourth Street. The unity and brotherhood of the Acacians enabled them to easily organize a generous mixture of activities. They had many social events and participated in intramural activities. Scholastic endeavors were also an important part of the fraternity life. As a social service, the Acacians donated their time to aiding the residents of one of Charleston's convalescent homes.

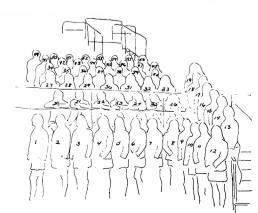

The Acacians found their first year to be very successful and fulfilling.

Alpha Gamma Delta

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority was active in various school activities. Last spring, they won first place in the Greek sing competition.

Fall quarter was successful for the Alpha Gam's. They were able to place first in many Derby Day events. These included the swimsuit competition, skit competition and Derby Chase Day. Derby Darlin' was Barb Becker.

Homecoming offered the Alpha Gam's opportunities to display their school spirit. Both their house dec and their float won first prize. Sandy Book was the Homecoming Queen.

On December 5, the Alpha Gam's dedicated their new house, located on Lincoln Avenue across from Old Main.

ACOM

Alpha Omicron Pi

Alpha Omicron Pi marked its beginning on Eastern's campus on April 15, 1971. The colony became the 94th collegiate organization of the national sorority, AOPi is Eastern's seventh sorority.

Pledging forty girls during the spring quarter. the AOPi's began to establish themselves and become involved in Greek campus life. Many of the members are active in honorary societies, theatrics, women's athletics, and student organization.

Returning Fall quarter, the AOPi's participated in their first Greek activity by taking fifth place over-all in Derby Day's. Growing in unity and sisterhood the AOPi's experienced their first Homecoming. They presented senior Nancy Depcik as their first Queen candidate. They joined the other sororities and dorms in sponsoring Nancy Heinz as their greeter candidate.

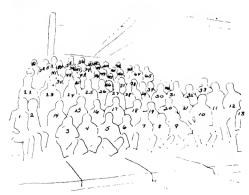

The AOPi's opened winter quarter and the Christmas season by having a dinner banquet in honor of their colony coordinator. The week-end of February 12, 1972, marked the installation of Alpha Omicron Pi as a national chapter. The AOPi's were presented with their charter on Feb. 13, 1972.

Alpha Kappa Lambda

The AKL's were University Champions in softball and won their division title in football. An AKL independent team won the swimming relays earlier. AKL has members on the varsity football team, wrestling team, swimming team, and tennis team. Social activities ranged from beer breakfasts with sororities, get-togethers at Rendezvous, and a Halloween party at the V.F.W. to their Winter and Spring Formals.

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority celebrated their 70th anniversary with many social events this year. Their chapter took a retreat to Decatur, held a party for their graduating seniors, threw a wild "50's" party, and held a Spring formal. They took first in overall Greek games and built a delightful Homecoming house dec.

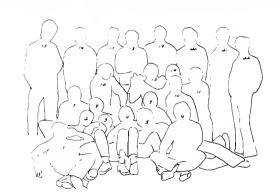

The Alpha Sig's took first place in the Red Cross Blood Drive. At Christmas time, the Alpha Sigs held a party with the TKE's for retarded children.

Beta Sigma Psi

The Men of Beta Sigma Psi have experienced a successful year on Eastern's campus, emphasizing the leadership qualities, athletic abilities, and scholarship of their brothers. Beta Sigs occupied a number of key leadership roles in the spring of 1970. Roger Weise served as overall Greek chairman, Kurt Herbst headed Greek Week Talent Night, and Mike Palm organized and coordinated the farewell dinner for retiring University President Doudna.

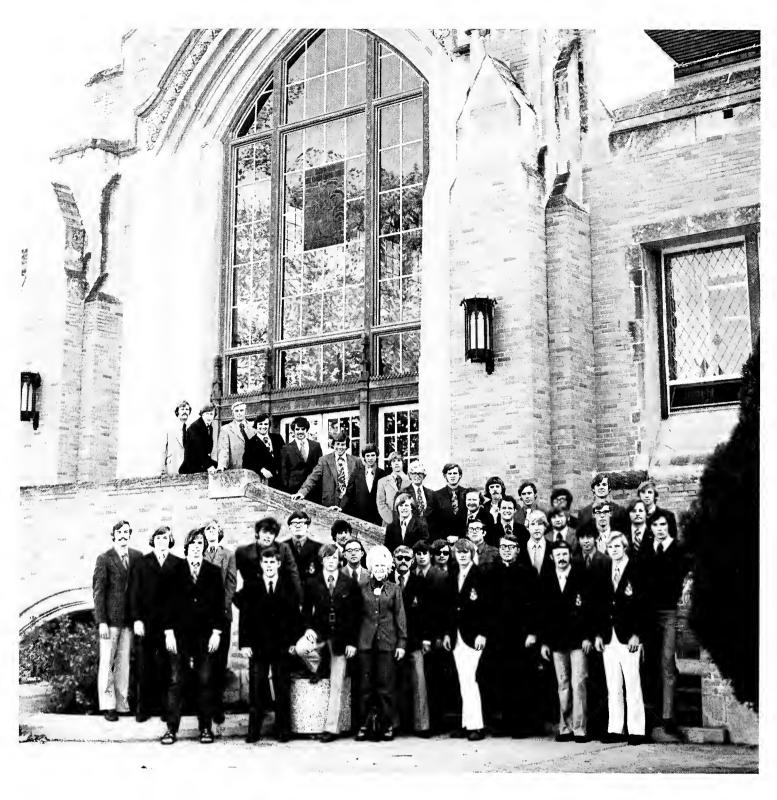

1971-72 was a rebuilding year for the Beta Sig "jock" squad. The basketball team drove to a 3-2 season, the chapter's best record yet. The active body of this chapter has dedicated itself anew to the pursuit of physical prowess.

Scholastically, the Beta Sig's are stronger than ever. Spring quarter, found the house with first-place ratings. Again this fall, the chapter distinguished itself as the only fraternity with a grade point above the all-men's average.

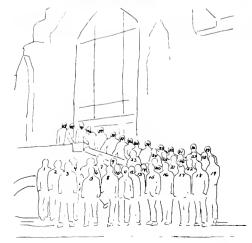

Life in the fraternity is rounded out by a very active little sister program. All things considered, as the philospher Williams once said, "The road to success is best traveled by those who are prepared for it." Beta Sigma Psi hopes to prepare its members to travel that esteemed road.

Delta Chi

The Delta Chi's held a great variety of social events this year, including keggars and informal parties, as well as an impressive winter formal at Pierre Marquet State Park. They worked, along with the Alpha Gamma women, on the Homecoming float that was to take first place. Their influence is felt on campus through the membership of individual brothers in various social, service, religious, and athletic organizations.

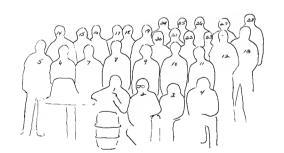

One of the men, Mike Goetz, is student Body President. In community service, the Delta Chi's sang for a group of retarded children. They are most well-known for their annual Miss Delta Chi pageant, a campuswide talent and beauty contest that is a preliminary to the Miss Illinois pageant.

Delta Sigma Phi

The Delta Sig's looked good in athletics again this year. They were University Champs in football and basketball and captured the fraternity championship for bowling. Some of their men were in varsity baseball and diving, while fifteen were on the varsity football squad.

The Delta Sigs enjoyed their annual Christmas party and Sailor's Ball.

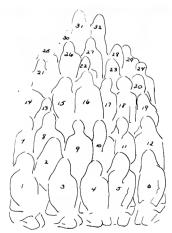

In the fall they raised over a thousand dollars for Muscular Dystrophy by going on a "walk-a-thon".

Delta Zeta

The Delta Zetas were active this year in a wide variety of activities. They sponsored State Day Convention and helped the community with cancer drives and poppy sales. They worked with the Sig Tau's in raising money for the Natasha Combs Fund. By presenting an antique show, the DZ's were able to raise money for their philanthropy.

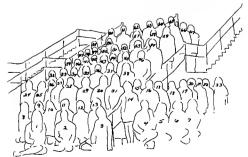

Many of the members brought honor to the sorority. Jane Higgins was 1st runner up to the 1971 Homecoming Queen. Delta Zeta has a student senator, three fraternity sweethearts, four cheerleaders, and six Pink Panthers. Miss Congeniality of Illinois and Miss Illinois State Fair are DZ members. The Delta Zetas have an annual Rose Ball in winter and a Spring Formal.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

This year the 60 members of Phi Sigma Epsilon pulled together for a massive remodeling job of the chapter house and for winning the top national chapter. Phi Sigs were well-represented in the campus clubs, committees, and activities. In 1971, they had nine out of the top 25 Greek scholars and have won the "all-sports" trophy for four consecutive years.

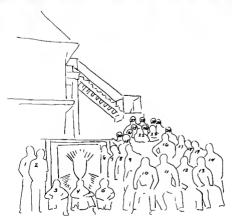

The Phi Sigs had at least two weekly social events which consisted of parties planned with other Greek organizations or just for members, pledges and their dates. At Christmas they sponsored a party with the KD's for underprivileged children.

They received the honor of being the number-one chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon in the U.S. at their national meeting this year.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity has been on Eastern's campus only eight years but during these years it has experienced phenomenal growth.

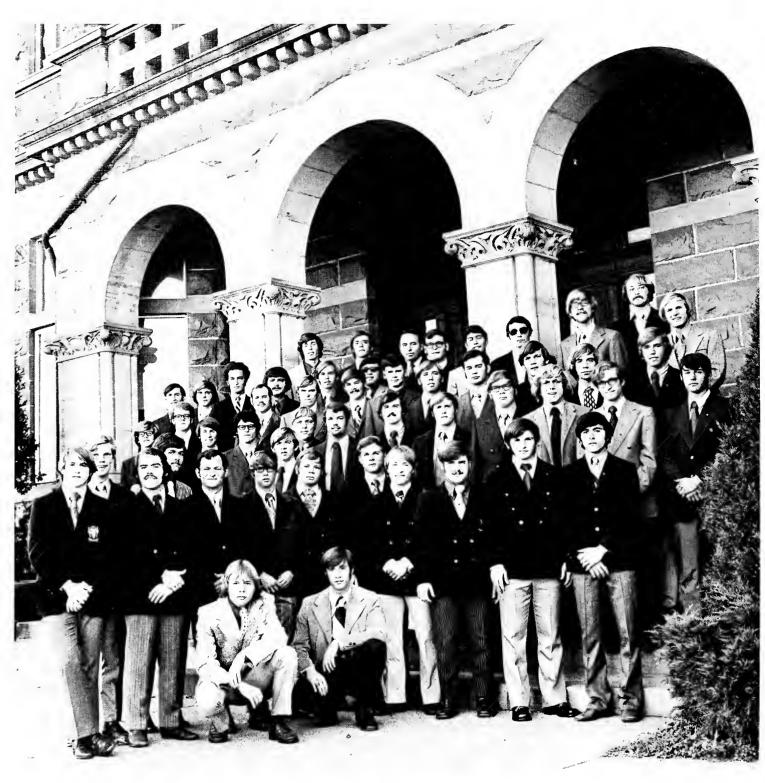

The Pikes' main function is social, but they feel that scholastics and athletics also play a major part in their fraternity life.

Pikes sponsored an invitational basketball tournament in March with many other Pike chapters represented.

They participated in community projects such as helping the mentally retarded of Coles County and the cleaning-up of recreational areas around Charleston.

Sigma Chi

Eta Mu chapter of the Sigma Chi Fraternity was installed at EIU last December.

As Lambda Sigs, they won the 70-71 scholastics trophy in the fraternity division.

Backing the Panthers in Basketball, they held week-end parties and hosted a Dad's Day.

They were involved in activities such as Varsity Track, Football, and Baseball, as well as IFC officers and dorm governments. Derby Days II, a week long fest for the sororities was a great success.

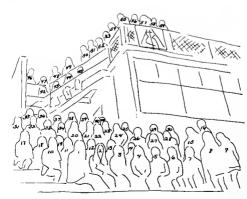

Sigma Chi also took part in a fundraising project for their national charity, the Wallace Village for Children.

Sigma Kappa

In the past year Sigma Kappa has been represented on the Homecoming Court, by a Greeter, Fraternity Sweethearts, cheerleaders, and Pink Panthers. Sig Kap's participate in nearly every campus organization and are active in many honorary organizations.

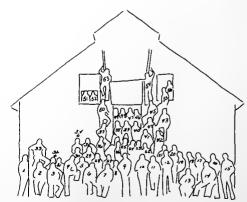

They find it important to be civicly active. They support the Maine Sea Coast Mission, the American Farm School in Greece, and hold various activities for shelter care homes and underprivileged children in the Charleston area.

Sigma Pi

The brothers of Sigma Pi received top honors in a variety of fields this year. Athletically, they took firsts in over-all Greek bicycle and chariot racing, second in steeple chase, and they won the Sigma Pi basketball tournament at Indiana State. For their industriousness, they received firsts for Homecoming house decs and in the Greek Sing.

The Sigma Pis of E.I.U. took in more pledges than any other chapter in their national. A Christmas program for under-privileged children was held.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Alpha Psi chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma found the year 1971-72 very prosperous. During Greek Week they held the annual Tri-Sig Carnival the proceeds of which go to the Robbi Page Memorial Fund, the sorority's national philanthropy. In the spring the Tri-Sig's, together with the TKE's, sponsored the yearly Easter Egg Hunt for the area children.

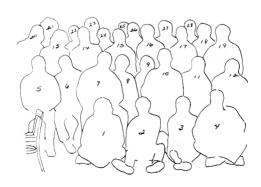

Throughout the year Tri-Sigma was honored with the naming of one of its members as Greek Queen, co-greeter, and sweethearts. Other members are on the cheerleading squad, Pink Panthers, and the Student Senate.

Sigma Tau Gamma

The brothers of Sigma Tau Gamma celebrated their 30th anniversary last November.

Sig Tau's collected over $1600 for a vear-old Charleston stricken with a brain tumor, instead of building a homecoming house dec. They also continued their tradition of winning the blood drive for the eighth consecutive time. The Sig Tau's were active participants in all intramural sports. The brothers were represented on Eastern's varsity football, swimming, and soccer teams. Brother Don Vish led on the swimming team and John Polacek was sent to the district 20 All-soccer team.

Several brothers served as student senators during the year including Steve Contois, who was elected summer speaker.

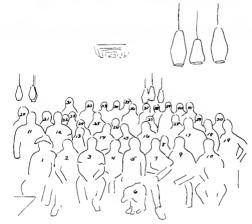

The Sig Tau's enjoyed many parties throughout the year, highlighted by the Spring Formal, the Turkey Roast, Christmas Party, and Second Annual Ripple Riot.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Once again this year, the TKE's came through with high honors in sports. They took third in university badminton, seconds in university football, volleyball and hockey, and firsts in handball and weightlifting.

TKE's were represented on the Student Senate, and had the IFC president and the vice-president.

They spent one weekend helping to build a church in Ashmore. Once again they and the Alpha Sig's gave a Christmas party for mentally retarded children, and they held an Easter egg hunt, with the Tri Sig's, for Charleston community children.

The Panhellenic Council serves as the coordinating body for the seven social sororities: Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Delta Zeta, Kappa Delta, Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Striving toward its goal of sorority unity, Panhel sponsored a Fall retreat for its delegates. Amidst all the fun, the women found time to come to a better understanding and to make great steps toward their goal. Besides its principle function as the organizer of rush rules and formal rush, Panhel also coordinates social activities such as Homecoming, Parents Weekend, and Greek Week. Each sorority is represented by one senior delegate, one junior delegate, and the Chapter President.

The IFC, Inter-fraternity Council, serves as the coordinating body for the ten social fraternities: Acacia, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Beta Sigma Psi, Delta Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, Sigma Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Pi, Sigma Tau Gamma, and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Greek King and Queen

Wednesday night of Greek week was highlighted by the crowning of Greek King and Queen. The 1971 Greek King was Vern Dreschler, a member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, and Greek Queen was Jan Howell, a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority. An ice cream social and old time movies led up to the crowning. The King and Queen reigned over the remaining activities of the week.

Each sorority and fraternity had one candidate. The Queen candidates were: Nancy Cummins, Alpha Gamma Delta; Mary Ellen Andrews, Alpha Sigma Alpha; Nancy Magnus, Delta Zeta; Annette Wilson, Kappa Delta; Andy Walters, Sigma Kappa. The King candidates were: Tim Toepke, Alpha Kappa Lambda; Roger Weise, Beta Sigma Psi; Ken Werner, Delta Sigma Phi; Marty Wilder, Delta Chi; Greg Schneider, Sigma Chi; Phil Lindberg, Phi Sigma Epsilon; Kent St. Pierre, Sigma Pi; Steve Millage, Sigma Tau Gamma; Al Spiegle, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

AKL Little Sisters

The men of Alpha Kappa Lambda find their little sisters to be very special people.

When the spring cleaning comes around, little sisters are very handy. Little sisters do everything from helping with rush to backing AKL's in sports. The AKL pledges found that when they needed help selling their candy their little sisters were ready to help.

The little sisters had work days and donut sales to give their big brothers surprise parties.

Beta Sig Little Sisters

The Beta Sigma Psi little sister's add a great deal to the success of the fraternity.

This year they did many things to help their brothers. They made Christmas decorations and had a Christmas party. The brothers were very much remembered on Valentines day with a skit done by the little sisters. Hiding beer was one way the little sisters found to say happy Easter to their brothers. When cleaning time came around the sisters were their helping. They were hostesses for a reception held in honor of the house mother.

Little sisters usually cause their big brothers a little trouble and pulling a pimp is a great way to cause trouble.

Chi Delphia

The Chi Delphia are the little sisters of the Delta Chi fraternity. They were very busy helping their brothers throughout the year.

Fall quarter they took new pledges, and winter quarter the Chi Delphia hosted an international tea.

They helped their brothers with dinners and smokers, and they helped host a regional Delta Chi conference. Remembering their brothers on special holidays was important to the Chi Delphia. They carved pumpkins at Halloween, trimmed the tree at Christmas, and had an Easter egg hunt at Easter.

The Chi Delphia won a football game with the Beta Sig little sisters. They gave their brothers a recognition dinner, and had cookie sales.

Alpha Phi Alpha

The Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity states as its motto to serve not only the Black community, but also the entire community of Charleston. This past year they asked a Black minister from Chicago to speak in Charleston. Members of this fraternity worked throughout the community to spread the spirit of good will.

An annual scholarship banquet was held to award trophies to those with the highest scholarship average. Inter-fraternity awards were also given.

Alpha Phi Alpha sponsored its annual Sweetheart Dance this year and the Alpha Phi Alpha Sweetheart was chosen.

Two other activities which kept the fraternity busy this year were the annual Christmas party and the Founder's Day banquet. Many of the fraternity members also took an active part in the Afro-American Association.

Sigma Gamma Rho

Members of Sigma Gamma Rho, Delta Beta chapter, worked toward greater service and greater progress. In order to become a member, a girl must be at least a second quarter freshman and be in good scholastic standing.

One of the annual events sponsored by the chapter was a talent show. Everyone was invited to exhibit any talent. After the competition was judged, trophies were awarded. The Founder's Day Ball was another event which was sponsored by the group.

Members served the campus by giving a scholarship to a sorority sister or a girl in the community. They served the community by delivering magazines to Charleston nursing homes.

For another civic project the women of Sigma Gamma Rho sponsored a Halloween party for underprivileged children.

Omega Psi Phi

The men of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity have been active throughout the year with a variety of social and service activities which fulfill their purpose of helping and bettering mankind.

Many of the members were active in the various campus organizations this year.

At Christmas, Omega Psi Phi sponsored their annual Sweetheart Dance where Diana Miller was elected their sweetheart.

This spring they had their Anniversary Weekend. The Weekend started out with a skating party and concluded with a dinner for the members of the different chapters that came down from different universities for the activities. Other informal parties were also held throughout the year.

Delta Sigma Theta

Acting as a service and social sorority, Delta Sigma Theta was a great aid to many of the organizations on campus.

Members of the Delta Sigma Theta helped at the Coles County Association for the retarded and also assisted in the Occu-pac project.

Volunteer work was done at both the Eastern Illinois University library, and the library at the Black Cultural Center.

The sorority sponsored a Harvest Ball during the fall quarter and a Crimson and Cream Ball during the spring quarter. A dance was also held for the international students in April.

During April, the Jabberwock was held. This consisted of the awarding of a scholarship to some student either from the high school or junior high in the community.

Phi Beta Sigma

Phi Beta Sigma was founded in 1914 at Howard University by A. Langston, Leonard F. Morse and Charles I. Brown. Phi Beta Sigma, of the Delta Chi Chapter, has served Eastern's campus for two years.

The ideal and motto of the fraternity are "Culture for Service and Service for Humanity". They also strived for academic achievement at Eastern.

The members served on the Lecture Series, Radio-TV Board Mens' Athletic Boards, WELH, Eastern News, Afro-American Association, the Supreme Court and the Judicial Board.

In April, Phi Beta Sigma sponsored their first annual Sigma Sweetheart Blue and White Coronation Ball.

Alpha Phi Omega

The Alpha Phi Omega, National Service Fraternity, has served Eastern Illinois's campus for a quarter of a century. The members come from all walks of life with one idea in mind—service.

The chapter's activities this year included a thirty-mile walk to collect money for the LaRabida Research Hospital. A dance and raffle was also held for the same purpose.

At Christmas, the men of Alpha Phi Omega celebrated the yuletide by building and decorating a Christmas tree on Eastern's campus, sending cards to the men in Viet Nam and caroling at the nursing homes in Charleston. Other charitable projects by the fraternity included building the queen's float at Homecoming, clean-up projects in and around Charleston and swimming programs for both the Boy Scouts and the mentally handicapped in Charleston.

Delta Sigma Pi

Delta Sigma Pi is a national business fraternity which was very active on Eastern's campus this year. The fraternity was organized to foster the study of business at the university level. The membership was comprised of business majors who have a grade point of 2.5 in their major and a 2.25 overall.

The annual spring formal, the Rose Banquet, was held spring quarter. At this time a Rose Queen, who will go on to the national competition, was elected.

Besides field trips and professional meetings, the fraternity sponsored a cemetery clean-up project.

Phi Mu Alpha

Phi Mu Alpha is Eastern's professional music fraternity. It is nationally known as having over 280 chapters. The purpose of the group is to encourage and develop creativity, performance and education in music in America.

Some of the projects and activities that were planned were the annual American music concert, the spring Variety Show, ushering at concerts, helping with music workshops and generally furthering the cause of music in any way.

At a recent convention, the local chapters received an award for their excellence in contributing to the promotion of music.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Alpha Iota is a national professional music fraternity for women. Its primary goals are to promote music among students in colleges and universities across the nation and to aid in music development in underprivileged areas of the world.

Eastern's chapter, Epsilon Eta, was started in 1968, and recently received the achievement award for being the outstanding college chapter in the United States.

Epsilon Eta met every Monday and had such projects as a tutoring service, programs for nursing homes and bold notes music for the partially-sighted.

In conjunction with Phi Mu Alpha, the Sigma Alpha Iota sponsored the annual Variety Show. Proceeds were used to finance composition awards.

Vehicle

The Vehicle, Eastern's student creative magazine, received second place in the annual Pi Delta Epsilon national literary magazine competition for 1970-71. Priding itself with this honor, the staff worked diligently all year to improve the Vehicle's quality even more. In the fall issue, a photo essay series was used to alter the traditional format, giving the magazine a central theme. The winter issue contained short stories complete with illustrations, included more graphics, and livened its cover with a four-color photo. Since funds were quickly depleted, the spring issue was created in a tabloid style. Cartoonist V. Gene Myers provided campus-oriented illustrations to sum up the year's events and to relate the Vehicle more closely to Eastern than ever before.

LOWER: Verna Jones, Vehicle editor, examines the fall issue.

Eastern News Goes Three A Week

With a motto of "Tell the Truth and Don't Be Afraid", the Eastern News served the student body. Many vital issues were probed as the News searched different aspects of community and campus happenings.

A new editor was chosen each quarter, giving the opportunity for five different people to act in an executive capacity. A probe into off-campus housing conditions was one of the main issues of the year.

Three newspapers per week provided continued coverage not only on campus and local issues, but also national and state news. The national news was supplemented with the new AP wire service machine.

The summer editor was Becky Mc-Intosh. Fall co-editors were Tom Hawkins and Chris Benignus. Winter editor Gordon Britton and spring's Marty Spitz finished off the year for the News.

Eastern News editors were Marty Spitz-Spring; Gordon Britton-Winter; Tom Hawkins and Chris Benignus-Fall.

Warbler

The 1972 Warbler was a product of total effort by the staff. Headed by editors Patricia Cummins and Dick Sandberg, the publication overcame budget problems by cutting down on the length of the book and the number of pages.

The book, divided into Activities and People, endeavored to cover every facet of student life on Eastern's campus.

The four-color cover was a new effect attempted for the first time this year. The endsheets were the mural on Sporty's painted by Britton Zabka prior to the building's destruction by fire. The staff met in Pem Hall basement, working together to complete the book. Mr. Dan Thornburgh, publications advisor, worked with the students, encouraging and aiding them at tight deadline times. The 1972 Warbler was truly a team effort.

WELH Plays Top 50

Eastern's campus radio station can be found at 640 on the radio dial. The station had a new format this year in that it adopted the system of playing the top 50 albums. News, sports, and weather were incorporated into the program. With the aid of a United Press International machine, on-the-spot radio broadcasting was provided.

In a survey made on campus, WELH was listed as the second most popular station, with WLS winning the first slot.

Requests could be made at any time, and the members of the staff did their best to honor all requests. The station broadcasted seven days a week.

Afro-American Association

The Afro-American Association's purpose this year on campus was to promote black unity and an awareness for both blacks and whites.

During the winter quarter, the group held a general election in which Anthony Jackson and Kelvin Gilchrist were elected co-presidents of the association. The Miss Black EIU contest was also sponsored by the association during this quarter. Miss Martha Palmer was chosen Miss Black EIU and reigned over the black student body, presiding at different functions held by Eastern Blacks.

A tutoring service was sponsored for Black students, and plays and readings dealing with black awareness were held, helping to promote Black History Week on campus.

College Republicans

The College Republican Club started the year with their annual membership drive. Considerable attention was given to "Operation Earlybird", a program to have Republican students registered to vote.

Republican officials and candidates were guest speakers at several club meetings. The GOPress, the club newsletter, was published every two weeks. A car was sponsored in the Homecoming parade, and several fund-raising events and parties were held throughout the year. Club members received first-hand political experience in campaigning for candidates in the March 21 primary and in the county elections in April.

The CR's sent delegates to the February Illinois College Republican Convention in Decatur and to the April Midwest College Republican Convention in St. Louis.

Appellate Court

The Appellate Court at Eastern is the court of appeals in the university court system. The Appellate Court was organized last year to handle the appeals from the other courts.

Supreme Court

The University Supreme Court was established during the 1969-1970 school year. It is the court of highest appeal in the University Court System. The Supreme Court pronounced judgment on various constitutional problems which came into view during the year. The Court had the final interpretive power of the Student Senate Constitution and the Student Bill of Rights.

Court members Craig Dudczak, Ray Pranske, Daniel Caulkins IV, Cynthia Shedd, Richard Sandberg, Michael Jeffries, and Dean C. Kerr.

University Court

The University Court, organized last year, regulated many of the judical proceedings which were originally handled by the organizational courts.

Since the offices of Dean of Men and Dean of Women no longer exist, the University Court has authority over the various areas. A substantial portion of the Court's cases concerned minor disciplinary problems.

Court Members Dr. Johnson, Jim Allen, Byron Brankenhoff, Ralph Ambler, Rich Beck, and Geoffrey Pounds.

Student Senate

As a unique governing body representing the students at Eastern, the Student Senate became an even more important faction this past year as students worked toward voter registration and other matters which were vital to them.

The Senate is composed of 30 senators, 12 elected at large, 6 from the Greek district and 6 from the dorm district. Together these elected people represented the students of Eastern in such cases where housing, fee hikes, and other issues are concerned.

Serving as Senate Speaker and Secretary were Allen Grosboll and Rebecca Redenbo, respectively.

Radio-TV Board

The main responsibility of the Radio-TV Board was to oversee the budgeting of new equipment, working with the Apportionment Board for financial assistance to the radio station.

The board works with the radio station checking the logs, approving the overall budget, and providing critical assistance.

Men's Athletic Board

The Men's Athletic Board, in an executive capacity, has the responsibility of approving athletic schedules and the budget for the physical education department.

Besides these duties, the Board is responsible for approving any athletic awards which are given.

Lecture Series Board

The policy of the Lecture Series Board was to bring about the greatest variety of top-ranked speakers to the university community.

Among the speakers engaged this season were Dr. Benjamin Spock, speaking on the Vietnam war, Lester Maddox, speaking on the honesty gap, Grace Thorpes, and Bobby Seals.

Apportionment Board

Activity fees which are paid quarterly by students are handled and distributed by the Apportionment Board.

All groups on campus which are eligible receive a portion of the activity money to plan out their schedules.

All activities on campus plan their own budget, then submit it to the Apportion-Board for approval. The board's main purpose is the fair distribution of funds.

Artist Series Board

The high forms of dance, drama, art and music are brought to Eastern's campus by means of the Artist Series Board.

Four student and three faculty members of this group worked together to bring these forms of entertainment to the campus. The group started as early as January to plan for the programs. Seven programs were presented this year: Frula and the Canadian Opera Company, Osipova Russian Orchestra, the National Shakespeare Company, Dorian Woodwind Quintet, De Pasquale String Quartet, John Darrenkamp-a baritone singer.

All of these programs were open not only to students, but to all residents of the Charleston area wanting to come.

Student Publications Board

The Student Publications Board handles mostly financial matters, in that they have the responsibility of approving budgets for the student publications.

The student members of this board are appointed by the Student Senate, and the faculty members are appointed by the faculty senate. Past editors of publications act as de facto members of the board.

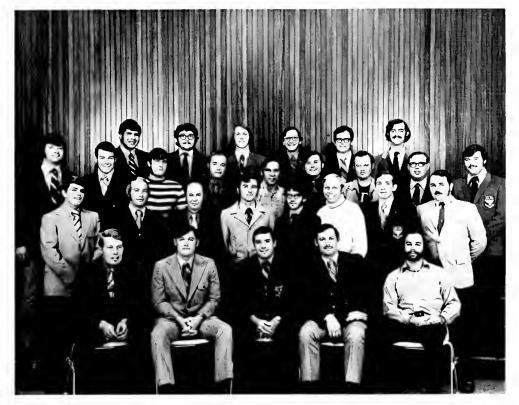

Policy decisions and editor appointments are approved by this board effective this year.

The board represents the voice of students on student publications since these are funded by the students.

Policy decisions and editor appointments are approved by this board effective this year.

Board Members are Ed Kick, Judy Riordan, Dr. Rebecca Wild, Jay Trost-Student Chairman, Mrs. Frances McColl, Janine Hartman.

Eastern Veterans Association

The Eastern Veterans Association was first organized to aid the veteran in the change from military to civilian life. The group of men who had shared his experiences made it easier to become a part of Eastern socially as well as academically.

The veterans sponsored intramural teams, conducted the campus Veteran's Day services, and supplied the color guard for the Homecoming parade.

University Council For United Nations

The University Council for the United Nations is in its sixth year at Eastern. The group strives to promote an interest in the United Nations. They hope to foster an increase in the knowledge of international affairs through the study of United Nations operations.

The group sponsored several guest speakers who came to inform them of current international affairs. Other colleges campuses and their operations were visited as the students were seeking to better their own participation.

Association Of International Students

RIGHT: These students proudly display articles of their homeland.

A total of 41 countries were represented in the Association of International Students this year. The club, through parties and other activities, tried to show the unity of all nationalities.

In early November, a social party was held for all members. At special meetings several showed slides and movies and talked about their countries.

During the year, the students kept displays in the cases located in the International Lounge in Coleman Hall. Handicrafts and other representatives of foreign cultures were on display.

The association took part in activities which were centered around cultural and social affairs.

Student Activities Board

The Student Activities Board, a branch of the Student Senate, was formed to dissolve the problem of apathy at Eastern.

In order to achieve this goal, the Board sponsored events such as registration dances, smorgasbords, coffee hours, ice cream socials, concerts, and movies.

The Student Activities Board organized freshman orientation and Parent's Weekend. They also sponsored the cheerleaders and the Pink Panthers. The board brought in entertainers such as Neil Diamond, B.J. Thomas and Oliver.

LOWER LEFT: The S.A.B. sponsored the "Trash of the Thirties."

Carman North And South Councils

Carman Hall was officially dedicated this year when Miss Ruth Carman was honored at a dedication dinner. Miss Carman made up her own guest list of about 50 friends including President Fite. Fifty of the most active residents of Carman also attended the banquet.

Dr. Elizabeth Michels, French professor at Eastern, spoke about Miss Carman, retired Latin professor. Three student speakers were also part of the program.

During Hall Week, Carman North won first place in the tricycle race. Last spring, Carman North was awarded a first place trophy for intramural baseball. A semi-formal was held during spring quarter with the theme "Follow the Rainbow."

In the fall, full use was made for first time of both units of Carman. Men moved into the South wing, making Carman one of two co-ed dorms on Eastern's campus.

Carman North and South together sponsored a movie on abortion and planned various coke hours.

Both wings of Carman participated in Homecoming and Parent's Week-end.

For Christmas, a tree-trimming party was held and each floor made plans for its own parties.

Most residents agree that the walk wasn't nearly as far since there were men to accompany them.

Lincoln Council

In coordination with the other two dorms in the LSD complex, Lincoln Hall participated in Homecoming preparations, sponsored a movie for coke hour entertainment, and was involved in Hall Week activities.

In order to spread the Christmas spirit, "angels and earthlins" were a part of its Christmas program.

The complex comedy float, "Silly Bears, TD's are for Panthers," was awarded first place.

Individually Lincoln Hall was active in intramural volleyball.

Stevenson Council

As part of the LSD complex, Stevenson Hall made it possible for the complex to be awarded second place for their house dec, "It's not that they can't-it's just that their underwear won't let them."

All intramural sports were represented at Stevenson. They also participated in the blood drive and sponsored a scholastic banquet.

Stevenson was represented by a justice on both the Supreme and Appellate courts.

Douglas Council

Douglas Hall was in the semi-finals for the College Bowl during spring quarter. The hall was honored in having representatives Mary White as University greeter for Homecoming, and Shirley Enke on the Homecoming Court.

Douglas Hall again won second-place in the women's residence hall division for the Red Cross Blood Drive.

Having a volleyball team this year kept the residents active in the intramural sport program.

Andrews Council

"Noah's Ark" was the fall theme at Andrews Hall. Residents of Andrews were kept busy this fall preparing for Homecoming, Parent's Weekend, and holding their annual little sisbig sis goozing, or ice cream party.

Last spring Andrews sponsored Little Sister's Weekend, and participated in Mother's Weekend.

December brought the second bus trip to Chicago for a shopping spree, traditional door dec contests, and floor Christmas parties.

A light and dark blue banner was made this year to support the Panthers at basketball games.

Coke hours highlighted by movies were held throughout the year, and a successful picnic was held with Thomas Hall at Fox Ridge State Park.

Lawson Council

Lawson Hall gave a grand total of $337.44 to the Coles County Association of Retarded Children. T-shirt and night shirt sales for Lawson were a big success for the hall. The money Lawson made throughout the year also helped to support an orphan.

Every spring quarter, the dorm holds a scholastic banquet for their honor students. Lawson Hall also participated in Little Sister's Weekend.

"Don't squeeze the Bears, beat them," was Lawson's house dec which brought them a third place rating in the house dec judging during Homecoming.

Yule tide season came in with a "bang" by the girls working spiritedly on clever and original decorations for their door dec contest.

Ford Council

A "come-as-you-are" breakfast helped the Ford Hall residents get acquainted early in the year.

Ford Hall actively participated in intramural sports this year by entering three volleyball teams. The hall also won first place in the campus College Bowl contest.

Along with the two other triad dorms, Ford Hall had a dinner honoring new President Fite and his wife.

the true feeling of Christmas was brought to Ford by tree-trimming and decorating the dorm.

McKinney Council

Halloween brought out ghosts and goblins of all kinds as the dorm sponsored a party to celebrate the occasion.

In intramurals McKinney entered three teams, volleyball, hockey, and basketball.

Christmas caroling and gift exchanges kept the McKinney girls busy during the Yuletide season.

A senior banquet is held each spring for the graduating seniors.

Weller Council

"Panthers Paws, get you where you want to go" was the theme of the second place winning float from the triad this year. Weller Hall residents had a hand in winning this award.

Mother's Weekend brought a large turnout from Weller Hall moms. The dorm was also active during Little Sister's Weekend and sponsored a scholastic banquet in the spring.

The big three sports for intramurals were volleyball, softball, and basketball.

Taylor North And South Councils

Many changes have occurred at Taylor Hall since the opening of its doors in the fall of 1966. The hall was named after the late Dr. Edson H. Taylor, a member of the Mathematics Department. One of the major changes occurred when Taylor went co-ed this past fall.

The men of Taylor North were extensively involved with the campus intramural program. They had various movies which were shown as social activities. Cokes were served and girls' dorms were invited to attend the program. The residents celebrated the Christmas season with a "Kiss the Desk Clerk" Contest in addition to decorating the dorm.

Women moved into Taylor South at the beginning of fall quarter. Because of the girls moving into the South wing, a new constitution had to be drawn up. Football and volleyball were the most active intramural sports for the girls of Taylor South.

Coke hours were held during the year and men's dorms were invited to attend. With Taylor North, South helped decorate for Christmas.

Both Taylor North and South worked together on the Red Cross Blood Drive, Homecoming, and the College Bowl. Both wings donated money to the United Fund, and invited various campus deans to attend dinners at the dorm.

Pemberton Council

"A Very Good Year," was the theme for the Homecoming alumni tea, which included a "style show" featuring music of the 40's and 50's.

"How about a Nice Hawaiian Punch?" was Pem Hall's homecoming float theme. They were rewarded for their work by winning the second-place trophy in the dorm division.

President Fite was invited to a welcoming dinner honoring him, held at Pemberton Hall.

The Christmas activities included a dinner for the maids, a tree-trimming party, an all-dorm party, and the annual door decorating.

Thomas Hall Council

Homecoming was one of the highlights of the year for Thomas Hall. "SMU, Breakfast of Champions," won the first prize in the dorm house dec. division, and their parade float also won first place.

Each year Thomas sponsors a Christmas party for the underprivileged children. This year's was a big success.

Intramurals at Thomas brought a winning year as they qualified for the university play-offs for football and soccer.

"Cheyenne Social Club", sponsored by Andrews and Thomas proved to be a different type of coke hour.

Demonstrating how the guys of Thomas can work together, 175 residents of Thomas conspired to throw their dorm counselor into the lake.

Residence Hall Association

The Women's Residence Hall Association and the Men's Residence Hall Association were combined last year to form one group, the Residence Hall Association.

This group was presented with many problems of dorm life. Among these were food, housing and open-house regulations. The group worked for better food and for total control of open house by each dorm.

The RHA set up a social committee comprising social chairmen from each dorm. With the help of the Student Activities Board, this committee set up programs including dances and movies.

In May, the RHA sponsored the second annual Hall Week. This included a carnival, games between dorms, coed softball teams and other entertainment for dorm residents. Various committees helped carry out RHA activities.

Math Club

The Math Club is open to all interested students. Membership during the past year, however, was comprised of mostly math majors and some graduate students.

The club met once a month, usually having a guest speaker talking about some aspect of math which had not been discussed. Faculty members, also, gave speeches at these meetings.

A Christmas party was held in Old Main with a skit presented by students and faculty. The club held two picnics, one during fall quarter and one during spring. These were held at Fox Ridge State Park. Both students and teachers attended, and participated in faculty-student volleyball games. Faculty members cooked the food. The Math club also held an annual field trip in the spring.

The club was organized to promote better understanding of math as a subject and as a profession.

Kappa Mu Epsilon

Kappa Mu Epsilon, the honorary math fraternity, requires a grade point of 3.0 in Math and a 2.5 over all average. A prospective member must have accumulated 80 hours. Invitations to join Kappa Mu Epsilon go out twice a year, once in fall and once in spring. The biggest event of the year was the annual spring banquet.

Awards were given out during this banquet to outstanding members and students in math. One award was given to the freshmen who scored highest on a math test. In all, five awards were given.

In the fall, pledge meetings and pledge mixers were held to acquaint pledges with other pledges and members. During the year, two guest speakers attended meetings of the club to give an informal lecture. Meetings were held once a month.

Physics Club

The Physics Club is organized to make physics students aware of their field. The club, consisting of physics majors, gathered together to bring forth new outlook on the topic of physics.

The club met twice a month, at which time students would speak on their own views and listen to the ideas of their peers. Graduate students from the University of Illinois also gave speechs to the club.

At the beginning of the year, the club had a party to acquaint students and faculty members.

The members of the Physics Club learned through the club to apply what they learn on the undergraduate level to graduate work.

Industrial Arts Club

The Industrial Arts Club was very active in furthering the causes of industrial arts as a profession. The members held meetings the second Tuesday of every month. Informative speakers, including professional people working in the field, were invited to speak to the club. All members of the club are undergraduates.

The many guest speakers include Dr. Garland, who had been principal of a large school, spoke on problems the members would encounter. Also an architect from IBC-Uni-built homes in Charleston gave a slide presentation. Most of the speakers were professional people working in the field. The members took a field trip to Unibuilt homes and toured the plant where the homes are manufactured.

The goal of the club is to inform members of job possibilities in the field of industrial arts.

Epsilon Pi Tau

Epsilon Pi Tau is Eastern's honorary industrial arts fraternity. This fraternity is nation-wide. To be eligible for membership, an industrial arts major must obtain a 3.0 in industrial arts classes and a 2.5 over-all average.

The organization held business meetings during the past year. The members worked on one large yearly project. Last year this included tracing former industrial arts majors from Eastern to find out what they were doing.

In the spring, the members held an initiation banquet at the union for faculty and students.

The goal of the organization during the past year was to further the field of industrial arts, bringing students together.

Industrial Tech Club

Industrial technology majors comprise the membership of the Industrial Technology Club. Members of the club work to promote ideas expressed through the program of industrial technology.

According to members of this club, the curriculum of engineer colleges has tended in recent years toward preparing new individuals for much needed research and devoted aspects of research. They believe this creates a shortage of personnel at the level at which newly graduated engineers once occupied.

Through work in the club, the graduate understands technology better and is prepared for employment in such industrial programs as manufacturing engineers, product development, and technical sales and services.

Music Educators

The Music Educator's National Conference, connected with the Illinois Music Educator's Association, is comprised of any music major or minor interested in belonging. The members all receive a journal published by the National Illinois Music Educator's Association.

Each year the members attend a state meeting at Peoria, Illinois. This meeting is held to help members plan objectives for the coming year. The club also held meetings every two or three weeks. Throughout the year, the club invited guests to their meetings. The guests often spoke on subjects pertaining to music programs in public schools.

The goal of the Music Educator's National Conference, is to understand the state music organization much better by becoming aware of the function of The Illinois Music Educator's Association.

Phi Sigma

Phi Sigma, which is a national honor society in biological science, chose as its main goal to further interest in biological research and studies. The Beta Pi chapter was established on Eastern's campus on May 22, 1970.

Meetings were held in the Life Science Building where various biology programs were presented by graduate students who used their theses as subject matter.

Initiations were held during the year for new members. Philip Phillippe was president of the society this year.

Botany Club

When spring quarter was over and finals were completed, the members of the Botany Club packed their bags and took an extensive trip to the Smokey Mountains. Aside from this trip, smaller excursions were planned throughout the year.

In helping to "keep America beautiful," the Botany Club offered its services to clean up wooded areas around the city of Charleston.

In order to make money, the Botany Club kept a refrigerator stocked with candy and beverages in the Life Science Building where anyone could purchase the goodies.

The Botany Club is composed not only of Botany majors, but also others interested in the out-of-doors and its conservation.

The club is under the direction of L. E. Crofutt. The president for this year was Jim Birchler.

American Chemical Society

The American Chemical Society serves to better acquaint students with the science of chemistry. At meetings they attempt to make more personal topics which usually are discussed at higher levels.

Films such as "Safety in the Lab," and "Chemical and Biological Warfare," were shown by the American Chemical Society.

Picnics, sponsored by the society, were held during both spring and fall quarters.

Visits were made to such places as the Eli Lilly Drug Company, to observe operations in the plant.

Aside from the Chemistry majors who were active, there were premed majors and other people interested in the field and scope of chemistry.

Economics Club

The Economics Club works generally to promote further interest in the field and subject area of economics. Anyone is invited to join and attend the monthly meetings.

Nixon's wage-price freeze was the topic for a debate at a meeting of the Economics Club held fall quarter. Faculty members, Mr. Bates, Dr. Lenihan and Mr. Stroh participated in the debate.

The economics club worked on a project dealing with the cost-benefit of the college student. Research was done on the spending of the college student and how it affected the community.

The economics club is under the direction of Dr. Allen Smith. Ronald Best was acting president this year.

Beta Beta Beta

Beta Beta Beta, an honorary biological fraternity, had membership made up of undergraduates and graduate students. Membership is based on grades and outstanding achievement.

The club goals were to promote interest in the biological sciences and in other scientifically-related fields. Seminars, field trips, and other activities helped the group to achieve their goals. Both the zoology and botany departments participated in the activities of Beta Beta.

Zoology Club

A field trip to the Shedd Aquarium and the Field Museum in Chicago were the highlights of the school year for the Zoology Club. The club's goal was to inform people of biology and biologyrelated happenings.

Meetings of the Zoology Club, held every two weeks, were open to anyone, including faculty members. The only requirement for membership if completion or enrollment in Life Science 100. Certain faculty members spoke on work in their fields in which they have done Master's or Doctorate research.

At one meeting a local doctor gave a talk on birth control. Other speeches were on ecology, or other medical subjects.

During the past year the club had a swimming party at the Laboratory School, and also took a canoe trip down the Embarrass River. They went on trips to collect fish and amphibians for specimens.

Association of Childhood Education

The Association for Childhood Education made an effort to unite the people who are interested in the progressive profession of education. The group boasted 140 members. They were interested in generating more enthusiasm toward the field of education. Handicrafts of chains and little snowmen made at Christmas were taken to the Mental Health Center.

Speakers were invited to the meetings and chose subjects of interest to elementary majors. Such subjects as student teaching, and the British infancy schools were featured. Meetings were held in the Laboratory School Auditorium once a month.

As a chapter of an international organization, the ACE kept students who are planning a career in elementary education striving for the very best.

Council for Exceptional Children

The Council for Exceptional Children has a local chapter on Eastern's campus which is also closely affiliated with both the state and national groups.

The group made up of about 100 members, met once a month. During the meetings, issues in education and the training of exceptional children were studied and reviewed. Members found the meetings to be very beneficial because they provided opportunities to exchange ideas.

German Club

Although the German club membership was not at its highest peak this year, students who speak German gathered together to provide an opportunity to use the language and actively learn about its basic structure.

A hayride was sponsored during October for members who also visited a haunted house, speaking German all the while. A Christmas party was held at the house of a sponsor.

A highlight of the year was when the group traveled to the Family Pharmacy to take a shopping trip in German.

Latin Club

Latin club members seek to exchange new teaching ideas of a scholarly nature. Their meetings were highlighted by talks by noted people on the interpretation of Latin Literature.

During the spring quarter, an annual Latin contest was sponsored by Eastern for high school students.

The club works toward the enrichment of the Latin program by extracurricular exposure to the language. The club links together Latin students who are at different levels of study in the field of Latin grammar and literature.

Spanish Club

Any Spanish students may become members of the Spanish club. The students work to develop a sense of unity and understanding about the Spanish-speaking countries. They strive to achieve their goal of "speaking Spanish all the time."

The club has had several speakers from countries whose native tongue is Spanish. At Christmas, a piñata party was sponsored. The club also took a field trip to the University of Illinois to see a ballet.

French Club

The newly-established French House was the meeting place this year for the French club. It was of utmost importance to all members to get to know one another better and to gain a better understanding of how the French language is used conversationally.

The group was comprised of ten members who spoke only French during the meetings. The club worked to bring all students studying French together so that they could work on one level.

A field trip was taken to Champaign to see a French play, which was performed at the Krannert Center for the performing arts on the University of Illinois campus.

A Christmas party was held at the home of Miss Michel. Experiments were conducted in the area of French cooking to enable students to learn how the French people actually live.

Membership is open to all students enrolled in French classes.

Russian Club

Meetings of the Russian club were highlighted by refreshments and the constant exchange of ideas about the Russian culture and language. All of the conversation was in Russian.

The club was composed of seven active members who spoke Russian to increase fluency and vocabulary.

All members of the group noted immense improvement in their ability to speak the language with accuracy while enjoying the experience.

Mr. Kirsh, a psychiatrist from the University of Illinois, spoke at one meeting about his experiences in Russia and the customs and traditions of the Soviet Union.

History Club

The History Club was re-organized and placed under the sponsorship of Dr. Stephan M. Horak. The newly-appointed officers led the growing club in planning the club's activities.

The club represents all those who have a major or minor in the field of history. However, all students interested in history may belong.

The main goal of the club is to actively involve students in the field of history. To accomplish this, the club sponsored various lectures and documentaries delivered by historians and faculty members from the department.

Geology Club

The Geology Club was actively engaged in various interests during the past year.

The club, open to all geology majors and other interested students, was under the direction of Gary Wallace. Meetings were held once a month, usually including a lecture on various aspects of the field of geology. These lectures were given by students and faculty and a number of guest speakers.

The Geology Club was organized on Eastern's campus for the purpose of advancement of geology not only in the classroom but in extra activities as well.

In the spring, the club went on its annual field trip. This year they visited the London Oil Field.

Alpha Beta Alpha

Alpha Beta Alpha, the honorary library science fraternity, pledged itself to books, service, people and life. They believe in promoting standards of good literature and serving the people.

The club, which met once a month, had an active membership of fifteen.

Two field trips were taken. On one trip, the University of Illinois Library was toured, and on the other, the State Library in Springfield came under observation. For a social event this year, the club had a Christmas party. In spring quarter Founders Day was celebrated. The founder was Dr. Watson. Also during spring quarter, certain members of the club attended a national convention in Kentucky.

Gamma Theta Upsilon

Gamma Theta Upsilon is dedicated to the purpose of furthering the many applicable aspects of geography. To accomplish this purpose, Gamma Theta Upsilon conducted many lectures and field trips on current geographical topics during the past year.

Anyone interested in the field of geography is eligible to become a member. Membership into this honorary fraternity is based on outstanding performance in the field of geography.

Gamma Theta Upsilon held many activities during the past year, including its main social function, the annual pig roast. This year the pig roast was held at Lincoln Log Cabin State Park, and was attended by Eastern's new President, Dr. Gilbert C. Fite, and his wife.

Kappa Omicron Phi

Kappa Omicron Phi is a national home economics honor society which consists of over 50 members on Eastern's campus. The members, all sophomores, juniors and seniors planned several social functions throughout the year.

They were selected to be members on the basis of their scholastic ability, involvement in the Student Home Economics Association, and their leadership and potential character. The group met once a month and the meetings featured speakers who centered their topics around consumerism.

Money which the group made went towards supporting a school, Crossnore, in Appalachia. This is a school for disadvantaged children. The club also celebrated Founders Day in December.

Home Economics Club

The Student Home Economics Association consists of four groups: freshmen and sophomore education majors, junior and senior education majors, family services, and home economics, business and dietetics. These four divisions worked together throughout the year, but also worked individually to plan activities.

A president from each group met with advisors to form a planning council. These groups met separately every month, meeting together only to plan such events as a Christmas party and a spring banquet which was held in the union. All members of this group also worked on Guest Day, a day when high school students came to visit the School of Home Economics. A fabric sale, which is sponsored by this group and held in the spring, provided money which was used to send members to the national convention.

Pi Delta Epsilon

Pi Delta Epsilon is an honorary journalism fraternity. Membership is based on outstanding service in the area of student publications.

Last spring, a delegation was sent to Washington, D.C., where Mr. Daniel Thornburgh was installed as the First Vice-President of the national organization.

Pi Delta Epsilon sponsored this year's national and individual contests in journalism of the nation-wide fraternity.

The year was closed with the traditional student publications banquet.

Pi Sigma Alpha

Pi Sigma Alpha, Eastern's political science honorary fraternity, was established on campus on December 7, 1966. The six year-old Delta Psi chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha is composed of political science students who have shown outstanding achievement in the field.

The club was sponsored by Dr. Yung Ping Chen and had 35 active members. It was recognized as the only political science honor society in the country.

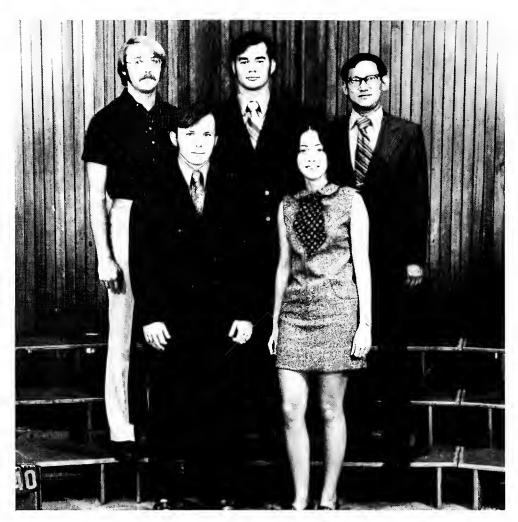

Included in the programs were lectures delivered by guest speakers. Among these speakers were the nationalist Chinese Ambassador to The United Nations who was recognized as an honorary member of Pi Sigma Alpha. Other speakers in the field of political science were sponsored by the society and brought to Eastern's campus to provide many interesting lectures on political science.

Psi Chi

Psi-Chi is an honorary organization for psychology majors and minors. To be eligible to join, one must have taken at least 12 quarter hours of psychology and have a cumulative average of 2.7.

The club met once a month and usually had a guest speaker from the field of psychology. Activities included field trips to various psychology centers. Social functions were also held. The main function was the annual spring picnic in which members invited all faculty members to attend.

The Psi-Chi organization was established on Eastern's campus to promote a better understanding of the field of psychology and to interest more students in the department.

Pi Kappa Delta

Pi Kappa Delta, Eastern's honorary speech fraternity, kept its members busy with numerous extra-curricular forensic activities. Membership is earned through outstanding work in inter-collegiate competition, debate and individual events in various contests.

Meetings were held only as needed. Many informal parties were held.

One of the functions of Pi Kappa Delta was entering a team in the campus-wide college bowl held in the spring. The team also traveled out of state for several speech contests.

Debate

The Debate Team at Eastern is directed by the Speech Department. The debate club actively engaged in speaking tours and contests held throughout the United States. Anyone interested in public speaking and debate was eligible to join the Debate Club. Membership totaled only eight members.

The Eastern Illinois Debate Club was very active, attending numerous speech contests throughout the year. The club went on a six-month touring season which included twelve tournament tours. The club has traveled extensively all over the United States and has won numerous awards for its outstanding work in the field of debating.

Since the Debate Club was started on Eastern's Campus, members have traveled to almost all of the fifty states, taking part in debates in colleges throughout the nation. Members did this on their own time, bringing much pride and prestige to individual members as well as to the campus of Eastern Illinois University.

English Club

Poetry read-ins by the English Club helped its members to get re-organized under the advisement of Dr. Robert F. White. Membership in this club is open to all English majors or minors. This year the membership reached 30. Members are required to pay $2.00 each year to fund the activities of the club.

The club met once a month to discuss activities. During the year, the club sponsored one social and one academic function. They held a coffee hour with faculty members and sponsored poetry read-ins.

The club initiated a consultive council, which was comprised of students from the club interested in bringing new ideas to the department.

Sigma Tau Delta

Sigma Tau Delta is Eastern's honorary English Club. In order to be a member a student must have a 3.0 average in all of his English courses.

In February, members of Sigma Tau Delta saw "Ryan's Daughter," and afterwards discussed the movie at a member's house. Guest speakers were a highlight of the year for Sigma Tau Delta.

Sigma Eta Lambda

Sigma Eta Lambda is composed of people interested in speech pathology, speech therapy, and speech disorders. The group has no set membership requirements, and this year had 20 members.

A wiener roast helped to get activities off to a good start. This, along with the Christmas party, helped the members of the club get to know each other better.

Field trips were taken to such places as the Armstrong Center in Mattoon. This center is the home for children with different handicaps such as cerebral palsy and mongolism. Sigma Eta Lambda members observed the facilities which the center had for helping rehabilitate these children.

Money was collected by the club and then given to clinics to buy therapy materials. Sigma Eta Lambda sponsored a suggestion box so students could put in suggestions pertinent to the department.

Pi Phi Delta

The Pi Phi Delta honorary fraternity required that its members pass two courses in oral interpretation with an average of 3.0 or better. The purpose of the organization was to promote oral interpretation in literature. Membership consisted of approximately 20 students.

Activities for the year included two reading hours fall quarter, with performances being given at two high schools. Winter quarter, a program on American Indian literature was presented. In the spring, a reading hour was held and presentations were made at the Illinois International Work Shop at Northern Illinois University. This presentation featured modern prose fiction which was presented in a reader's theatre. The organization also made two field trips to Northwestern University.

Phi Epsilon Kappa

Phi Epsilon Kappa, which had 25 members this year, is an organization for male PE majors. The club cited as their main objective to assist male PE majors and faculty members of the PE department in their professional growth.

A field trip was taken to the University of Illinois to visit the new intramural building. Study was done in the area of how physical education was taught in foreign countries.

Meetings featured sports and included physical activity and exercises. The value of competitive sports for women was discussed at one meeting.

A social meeting with Delta Psi Kappa, the women's honorary PE organization, was also held.

Pre-Med Association

Members of the Pre-Med Association worked this year to encourage people interested in the medical field to pursue their studies further. They also worked to promote greater interest in the profession of medicine.

The group gathered to discuss topics in the diverse fields of medicine. Attempts were made to stimulate the exchange of ideas and opinions related to the role of the professional medical employees in our society today.

Several guest speakers were heard, including specialists and general practitioners. A doctor from St. John's Hospital in St. Louis was just one of five speakers featured at meetings.

A field trip was taken to Paris Community Hospital where the role of doctor, nurse, x-ray technician and other technical people was observed.

Phi Alpha Eta

The purpose of the Phi Alpha Eta organization is to encourage academic excellence in freshmen women, and to promote a spirit of friendship and service to society in general.

In order to be a member, a women student must have a 3.5 cumulative grade point average at the end of 32 of 51 quarter hours. She is admitted as a freshman and is an active member during her sophomore year. At the end of the sophomore year, she becomes an associated inactive member who may act as student advisor to the new actives.

Phi Alpha Eta sponsored its annual Christmas party for underprivileged children of the area. A spring recognition tea was held for honoring those students who had been initiated during the year.

The motto of Phi Alpha Eta is "Learn to live and live to learn".

Pi Omega Pi

Pi Omega Pi is the local chapter of Alpha Chi, the national business honorary fraternity. Members of the honorary fraternity work to promote service, scholarship, and leadership in the area of business education.

Meetings were held monthly. As a service project, a collection of canned goods was taken at Thanksgiving. The items collected were given to the needy families in the Charleston area. At Christmas the club bought gifts for needy children of the area.

A newsletter is published for business education teachers in the Eastern area, providing a service to the business education department and the Eastern Illinois Business Education Association.

Phi Beta Lambda

The Society for the Advancement of Management is a chapter in the University Division of Sam, an honorary society for the students of management.

The major function of SAM was to serve as a bridge between the academic world and the real world of business by bringing speakers from various areas of business activity to campus.

Among these speakers have been such men as Mr. Virgil Grant, executive vice-president of Caterpiller Tractor Company and Mr. Lewis Clausen, past president of the Illinois Bankers Association.

Delta Mu Delta

This was the first complete year that the Secretaries Club has been in existence. Purposes of the club were to acquaint secretarial majors with others in the major, and to allow them to become familiar with some of the aspects of the business world with which they may come into contact.

The primary way of accomplishing this was though speakers. The club averaged two to three speakers a quarter. Speakers this year included a lawyer, an FBI agent, an Ozark airlines representative and a retail merchant. All of these are areas in which secretarial majors may be working.

Membership includes all secretarial majors or minors who may wish to be employed in secretarial work.

One major field trip was taken and there were also several social functions, including picnics and a mixer with Delta Sigma Pi. A money-making project was undertaken this year in order to replenish the treasury.

Management Club

Phi Beta Lambda boasted a membership of 28 students this year. This Club is a national service fraternity for business majors dedicated to developing competent business leadership for the future. The club worked to instill confidence in young men and women and encouraged students to improve their homes and communities.

Last June two members of the club traveled to Miami, Fla., where they attended the national conference.

Connie Dust, from Eastern, was first runner-up in the Miss Future Business Executive division, and Mary Phillips ranked eighth out of 50 in the Miss Future Business Teacher division.

The group made money be selling Christmas candles and stationery. Phi Beta Lambda met every month. Several meetings were highlighted by presentations by guest speakers.

Secretaries Club

Delta Mu Delta is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies.

Undergraduate membership is restricted to those students registered in the programs of business administration who are candidates for the Baccalaureate Degree, who have completed at least half of the work required for this degree, and who have achieved a qualitative grade record of 3.2 or better.

Initiation of new members was held twice this year. President and Mrs. Fite were guests of the annual dinner held fall quarter.

Accounting Club

The Accounting Club at Eastern has always worked to promote the profession of accounting. This is done through the channel of having guest speakers from accounting firms, and industries. One such speaker was Mr. Billy Cheek, partner-incharge, southwest district of Ernst and Ernst.

Informal meetings were held so that students and faculty could talk about the profession and opportunities of employment in the field of accounting.

In the spring the accounting club presented two awards to the outstanding junior and senior in accounting. The winners were determined by vote of the membership.

American Marketing Association

This is the first year that the Marketing Club has gone by the name of the American Marketing Association, Collegiate Chapter. During winter quarter a field trip was taken to Chicago, and the club members visited Montgomery Ward and Leo Burnett Advertising Agency, which is the fifth largest in the world.

The group invites speakers from the field of marketing to Eastern. Dr. Shelf, a foremost authority on consumer behavior, was featured this year. Another speaker was Jack Frost, from the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, who spoke on the development of personnel training.

The members of the Marketing Association kept an up-to-date file on past speakers who have been here.

Varsity Club

Men receiving varsity letters are eligible to belong to the Men's Varsity Club. During the past year, active membership in the club reached 55. The purposes of the Varsity Club centered around promoting school spirit and raising money through projects for the P. E. department. During the past school year the Varsity Club was very active. Some of the functions included buying EIU staff shirts for all the coaches, obtaining speakers and programs for the soccer games, sending a representative to the Physical Education National Convention held at Peoria and sponsoring a sports get-together for teams, coaches, and parents.

In the spring, the Varsity Club sponsored the annual All-Sports Banquet. Various guests, prominent speakers, athletes and coaches were asked to attend. Letters and other awards were presented to outstanding athletes during the banquet.

Men's P. E. Club

The Men's Physical Education Club was organized on Eastern's campus for the purpose of improving physical education, the curriculum and informing students of Physical Education requirements.

The club, open to all men's P.E. majors, met once a month with advisors to discuss plans for lectures, projects, and outings.

Lectures were given by guest speakers on various aspects of P.E. as a major. These lectures helped solve many problems that might confront the freshman P.E. major during his career.

The club also sponsored an EIU Physical Education Booth at the National Convention in Peoria, Illinois. During baseball season, a number of the members traveled to St. Louis to attend a Cardinal baseball game.

Recreation Club

The Recreation Club, composed of recreation majors and minors, met twice a month during the past school year. One meeting each month was devoted to planning activities, and the other was left open for lectures.

Two of the many speakers the club had included Dr. Ferrel Atkins, a park ranger at Rocky Mountains National Forest, and Eastern math professor, and Roger Barry, director of Colls County Regional Planning Assoc., who spoke on the Lincoln Reservoir.

The club was very active on campus. They sponsored the Gretchen Denton scholarship dance, a doughnut sale, a sledding party, a canoe trip on the Embarrass River, a bike hike to the Lincoln Log Cabin, and a square dance party.

Arts and crafts for old folks and handicapped children were also offered by the club.

Women's Recreation Association

The Women's Recreation Association, comprised of women interested in recreation, was one of the largest organizations on campus. Active membership in WRA reached about 400 students.

The group was brought together for the purpose of promoting better student relations through various yearround sports activities.

Sports offered on an intramural basis included volleyball, basketball, badminton, softball, tennis and many others. WRA also sponsored intercollegiate activities for women interested in competing with other schools.

Women's P.E. Club

A parachute demonstration was one of the highlight activities for the Women's Physical Education Club. Speakers who were featured throughout the year included John Kraft, an Olympic track star, Dr. Saltmarsh, whose topic was "How to Teach", Dr. Price from Indiana State University, and also a speaker from innercity schools.

In March, the club sponsored a clinic for high school girls interested in sports such as modern dance, basketball and volleyball. Different techniques of the sports were demonstrated.

Fox Ridge was the scene for a spring picnic. A Christmas party was held for the purpose of decorating the hospital.

Delta Psi Kappa

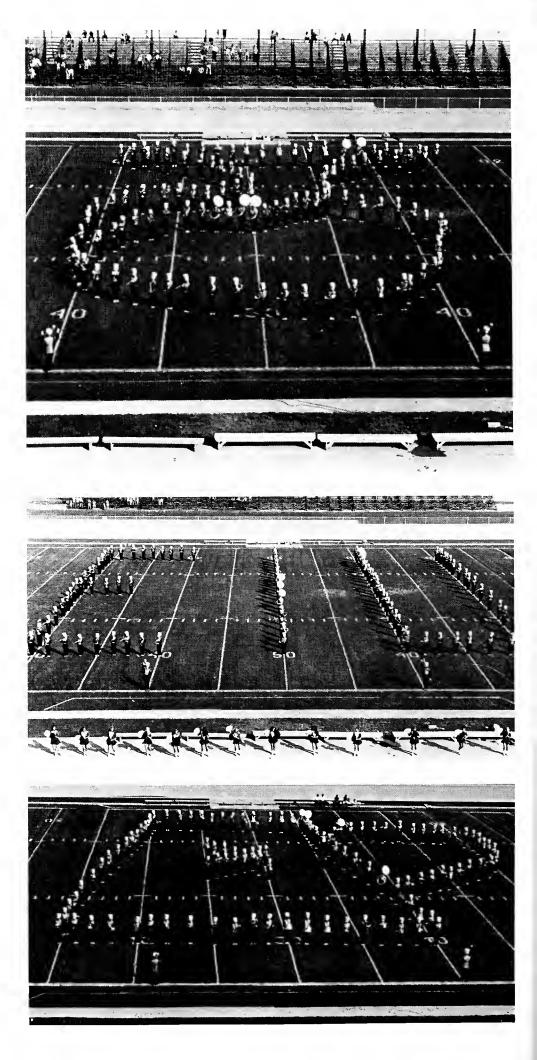

In order to be a member of Delta Psi Kappa, an honorary women's Physical Education fraternity, a student was required to uphold a 2.75 cumulative average, plus a 3.0 average in her physical education classes. Participation in the department was also used as criteria.

This club acted as a service to other groups in the department. They encouraged high standards of scholarship in the field and recognized this achievement. They also worked to further interest in the profession, and encouraged students to attend national conferences.

Fall quarter members of this club attended the state conference in Peoria. Every two years a biennial conference is held to which a local delegate must go. Pledges are taken in both spring and fall.

Marching Band

Each year during fall quarter, students may see or hear the 100-strong Marching Band practicing. After many hard and trying hours of drilling, the Marching Band proudly performed at the home football games and marched in the EIU Homecoming parade. The main goal of the marching band was to develop the best musical organization possible which would reflect the high performance standards of Eastern's faculty and students.

Jazz Band

The Eastern Illinois University Jazz Band has been in existence since 1959. Since the summer of 1971, the band has been a credit ensemble of the School of Music. The band performed the finest of jazz band arrangements in a variety of jazz styles. The EIU Jazz Band participated in college jazz festivals, took an annual tour of Illinois high schools and performed frequently for student gatherings on campus. For three consecutive years, the band had been selected as finalist at the Mid-West Collegiate Jazz Festival at Elmhurst, Illinois.

String Orchestra

Formed five years ago, the String Orchestra has grown from a small group of townspeople and one music student to an organization of 25 students. The orchestra performed at the end of each quarter and participated in educational rehearsals under the guidance of Mr. Fethi Kopuz. The orchestra also made up the core of the Symphony Orchestra and was used as a sectional rehearsal group for that organization. Mr. Kopuz was assisted by Mr. Tracy in these preparations.

Concert Band

Eastern Illinois University's Concert Band provided two concerts this year in which they played quite a variety of band literature. Among this were marches, concertos, and symphonies.

Anyone at the university was invited to join this group which practiced during float hours every day except Friday.

Intervarsity Christian Fellowship

The Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship group on Eastern's campus is known for their free membership. Anyone who comes to the meetings is considered a member.

Members of this group, acting as teams, visited different churches in order to present sermons which the students themselves wrote.

Telling other people about Christ and presenting missions to the students were both ways in which this club was functional. The group, which consists of 25 regular members, held meetings every Thursday. Different speakers were sponsored at each meeting.

Two conferences were held, one in the spring and one in the fall.

Book tables in the union were also sponsored by this group.

Christian Science

The Christian Science Club was open to anyone who wished to become a member.

Weekly meetings were held at the UCM center.

A lecture was sponsored during spring quarter. Visiting Christian Science Clubs at other schools such as the University of Illinois also kept the Christian Science Club members busy.

Members of the group attended the convention in Christian Science in Boston.

While studying the Bible members had access to the church library.

Luthern Student Movement

The Lutheran Church was the home of the activities for the Lutheran student Movement. There was a student lounge in the church which was used frequently by students.

This was the third year for the Lutheran Student movement which replaced the Gamma Delta fraternity of Lutheran students.

Students of any religion were welcome to join this group. They met every Sunday night for dinner and discussed topics of vital interest to everyone in the Lutheran Student movement. The group attempted to take a trip once a year.

Christian Collegiate Fellowship

The purpose of the Christian Collegiate Fellowship was to spread the Christian ideal on campus, making the students aware of the ideas in the Bible.

The group met once a week, in the Altgeld Room of the University Union.

Such social functions as hayrides, picnics, and meetings at member's homes were frequent occurrences during the year.

A Christmas party was held at the home of the club's advisor. Anyone who was interested in spreading the word of Christ was invited to attend the club.

United Campus Ministry

The United Campus Ministry Council is a federation of four agencies representing six churches—Christian (Disciples), Episcopal, Roman Catholic, United Church of Christ, United Methodist, and United Presbyterian. Following its statement of purpose, the Council seeks "to form communities of Christian concern which will increase among persons the love of God and neighbor. This concern will express itself in a variety of distinctive, yet interrelated ministries."

Current programs include the Colony coffee house, folk masses, draft counseling, marriage preparation workshops, theology courses, and a variety of films and special events.

Newman Center

The Newman Community is a Catholic organization established on Eastern's campus in 1968. The Community is directly associated with the United Campus Ministry and helps comprise the United Campus Ministry Board made up of both faculty and students.

There is no actual membership in the Newman Community, as it consists of anyone interested in its purpose. The purpose of the community is to coordinate activities between organizations.

During the past year, the Newman Community participated in numerous activities. At the beginning of the year, there was a hayride which helped interested students get acquainted with the organization. During the Christmas season, carols were sung at the Old Folk's Homes.

The main activities of the Newman Community during the year were folk masses held each Sunday morning at the Laboratory School.

Roger Williams Fellowship

The Roger William's Fellowship is an organization of Christian University students on Eastern's campus. The group is sponsored by the First Baptist Church; however, it is interdenominational, considering all Christian Faiths.

The twenty-five members of the Roger William's Fellowship met to plan activities which the club sponsored to promote an awareness of the Christian faith.

The group was instrumental in forming "Christians in Action," which helped form the "Fish Net" coffee house at Third and Madison in Charleston.

The group also sponsored "E" during the winter quarter. "E" was Eastern's resurrection consisting of a rock band presenting a program in the Union for several nights.

Baptist Student Union

Gregg's Farm was the scene of a hayride and wiener roast which launched the year for the Baptist Student Union. The club boasted a large membership which was functional in planning enjoyable activities.

Reverend Phil DeLorma from Altamont was the featured speaker at one meeting and the movie "Three" comprised another.

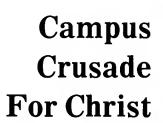

The Illinois State Baptist Union Convention was held at Eastern in October. Around 300 people attended this convention. Two banquets were held during the year.

Mike Keppler, who is President of Eastern's Baptist Student Union, is also State President of this organization.

Latter Day Saints

Members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints or any other interested persons are invited to join the Latter Day Saint Organization. The group worked to combine religious learning with social and recreational activities.

Lessons were presented on how to adapt to campus life. Outings were taken to various religious points of interest in Illinois, including Nauvoo and Carthage. Advisors for the group this year were Harold Widdison, Calvin Smith, Lawrence Bates, and Robert Clayton.

Campus Crusade for Christ is an inter - denominational organization which has evangelism as its main purpose. The group sponsored programs on campus throughout the year. One of these programs was a leadership training class which met five weeks each quarter. This group worked on ways of sharing faith and talked on faith of every kind.

The group, meeting weekly, stressed fellowship and growing together in Christ. Their main purpose was to tell others of Christ.

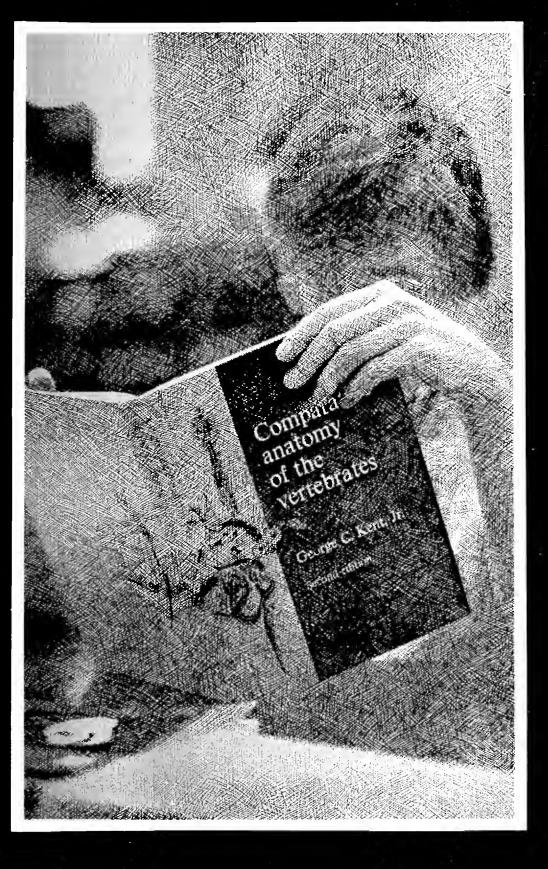

During the year, they sponsored programs at sororities, fraternities, and dorms to tell students of their plans and goals.

Fite Begins First Year As President

With the announcement of the pending retirement of President Quincy Doudna in August 1970, the search began for a new president for Eastern. The search ended in April 1971, with the appointment of Dr. Gilbert C. Fite, who took over the role of Eastern's fourth president September 1, 1971.

During his teaching years in education, Dr. Fite taught history classes both in the United States and in India. He came here after a distinguished career at University of Oklahoma. Considered an eminent historian in the field of agriculture, Dr. Fite has many books and articles to his credit. He received a Guggenheim Fellowship for his writing from 1964 to 1965.

Dr. Fite has served on the editorial board of three historical magazines, is a member of numerous historical associations and Phi Beta Kappa, and is listed in Who's Who in America.

In January, Dr. and Mrs. Fite moved to the new presidential home on Coolidge Drive, where they added their own decorating touch with keepsakes from India. Dr. Fite's pride and joy is his 1931 Ford Model A which was in good condition when he bought it, except for a new paint job.

Dr. Fite took part in the college activities from weiner roasts with the residence hall association to the solemnities of the graduation ceremonies in his first year at Eastern.

Chemistry Department Enters Organic Field

As was true of many of the academic departments at Eastern this year, the Chemistry Department was not subject to too many changes within the department this year. Sydney R. Steele continued in his fifth year as department head. One new instructor was added, due to Giles Henderson's sabbatical leave. David Buchanan replaced Dr. Henderson and is also serving in a position created by the retirement of Melvin O. Foreman. One new course was added to the department, Chemistry 541. The course is entitled Physical Organic Chemistry.

PEW Continues New Curriculum

The women's physical education department continued the new curriculum begun last year. In the new program, entering freshmen physical education majors undergo two years of basic courses followed by two years of specialized training. The areas of the new curriculum include modern dance, physical education for the elementary schools, sports, or a general area which combines the three areas.

Major courses were sometimes combined into two-hour blocks to give more time for specialization. Teamteaching was practiced as members of the women and men's physical education staffs joined in coeducational classes.

The department sponsors Delta Psi Kappa, its honorary, Women's Athletic Association, and the Women's Physical Education Club.

Health Education Aids Community

The health education department is involved in cooperation with the Office of Public Instruction in attempting to meet the health needs of Illinois students. This includes such community services as speaking before student groups and high school councils, and investigating and evaluating health education programs. These evaluations investigate the needs of health educators at the primary, secondary, and junior college levels.

The department continued its academic program as well as its summer graduate courses in current health problems. One course includes a study of the problems of alcohol, narcotics, and hallucogenic drugs.

ROW 3: Robert Hussey, Neil Moore, Donald Eddy, Maynord O'Brien, Tom Katsimpalis, Clyde Biggers, H. O. Pinther, John Croft, Raymond Padovan, Colonel Scott.

William Buckellew began his second year as department head for the Men's Physical Education Department. The department is now in the process of adding new service courses and have just completed work on changes in the Physical Education degree program.

One new instructor was added to the P. E. department this year. He is Jesse James, from Illinois State University and his area is weight Training. As of the present, he is teaching service course and is serving as assistant football coach.

Art Department Stresses Creativity

The art department provides a wide variety of creative opportunities for art majors as well as many students in other fields. The head of the department is Walter Sorge. The facilities of the department include large ceramic kilns, special equipment for jewelry and metalsmithing, sculpture, printmaking, and a variety of photographic slides for the art history section.

LEFT: Steve Dickerson is seen working with the pottery wheel for a ceramics project in the art center of the Fine Arts Building.

Theatre Arts Increases Productions

The Theatre Arts Department presented more 5 o'clock theatre productions this year under the direction of E.G. Gabbard. There were three major productions given this year. The fall quarter production was "The Front Page" by Ban Hecht and Charles McCarthy. The winter production was "Heartbreak House" by George Bernard Shaw. The musical which was presented was "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" based on the Peanuts comic strip by Charles Schultz.

Two new instructors were added to the department this year. They were Andrea Meltzer and John Keough.

Music Department Offers Professional Variety

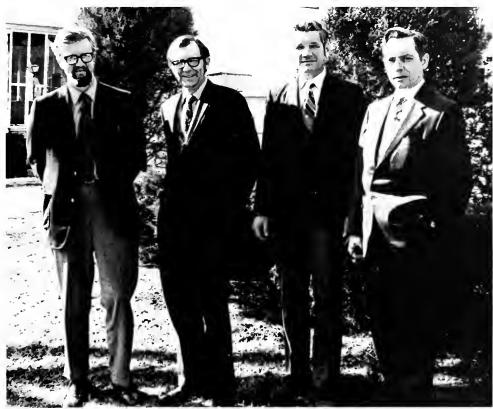

The School of Music is comprised of five different departments. They are Music Theory, headed by Alan R. Aulabaugh, Keyboard, headed by David P. Appleby, Vocal, headed by John N. Maharg, Instrumental, headed by Robert C. Snyder, and Music Education, headed by James Brinkman. Dr. Robert Hare is currently serving as Dean of the School of Music. Five choral organizations are included in the School of Music. They are: Concert Choir, Mixed Chorus, Oratorio Chorus, Chamber Singers and the newly revised Collegians. The Collegians are a singing group who also have included choreographed numbers. The Concert Choir is planning on making a three-week concert tour through Europe this summer.

Professional Newsmen Join Journalism

Journalism, continuing to be a part of the Department of English, was staffed this year by two professional journalists, as well as two regular instructors. Dr. Francis Palmer, former journalism instructor, returned as such last fall but died unexpectedly in October, 1971. Taking his place on a part-time basis were Buryl Engleman, editor, Coles County Times-Courier, and Allan Keith, reporter, Mattoon Journal-Gazette.

Dwight Connelly, assistant director of alumni services and former journalism instructor, rejoined the staff to teach the additional sections needed to handle the increased journalism enrollment. Daniel E. Thornburgh, assistant professor and publications advisor, continued as head of the program.

A growing number of students who minor in journalism are taking jobs in professional journalism. Last year's graduates accepting such positions are now located in such cities as Chicago, Springfield, Decatur, and Portland, Ind.

Allan Keith, Dwight Connelly, Buryl E. Engleman, and Daniel E. Thornburgh.

Philosophy Offers Special Course

Attempting to satisfy the interest of the student and lay person in achieving additional knowledge about various philosophies, the Department of Philosophy this year offered noncredit evening courses. Such a course was the one taught this spring by Dr. Robert Barford titled "Karl Marx and Marxism."

Dr. Stuart L. Penn, who has been on the staff since 1960, continued as head of the department. The personnel of the department was unchanged this year.

Most students enrolled in philosophy courses in order to obtain credit toward their humanities requirements. There is a philosophy major under the Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts Degrees.

English Expands Areas, Adds Two To Staff

ROW 1: Robert Brown, Clarence Wible, John Kelleher, Rebecca Wild, Henry Silverstein. ROW 2: Racheal Richardson, Donald Dolton, Evelyn Haught, Eleanor Ransom, Peggy Brayfield, Jack Sublette, Frank Stokes, Walter Lazenby, Carolyn Pierce, Rose Mary Shepherd.

The English Department, is once again this year, headed by Robert F. White. Despite the huge cut-back, the department has added two new professors. Dennis Baron, who received his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan, specializes in Old and Middle English literature and linguistics. Carolyn Pierce, who expects her Ph.D. from the University of Illinois in February 1972, specializes in English Education.

The department has broadened its program by adding three new courses. English 452 is a studies in Black Literature, English 586 is an Independent Study, and English 593 is a study in Twentieth Century Drama. The Department has also, this year, revived the English Club and reorganized the Student Consultative Council.

French House Set Up For Language Majors

Martin M. Miess remains a familiar face as the head of the Foreign Language Department. In fact, there were no new faces or courses despite the importance of this department. The French section of the department now has a dream come true. This dream is the French House in which five French majors and minors live together using the language in every-day speech.

ROW 1: George Jocums, Helen Van DeVenter, Geraldina Ortiz-Muniz, Donald Sundheim, Elizabeth Michael, Gerald Carr. ROW 2: Richard Dulka, Leo Kelly, Logan Cobb, John Mullaly, Stanley Harris, Martin M. History Department Updates Curriculum

The History Department was headed for the second year by Dr. Wolfgang Schlauch. Although no new instructors were added to the existing faculty, nine new courses were implemented.

Historical Methods 450 was added as a required course for all history majors. The other courses added were: American Urban History, 373; Reading on American Character, 471; Hanoverian England, 478; Victorian England, 479; Stuart England 483; American Historeography, 511; and Problems of Afro-American History, 530.

There were 20 instructors in the department this year.

LOWER: Donald Tingley, president of Illinois State Historical Society, dictates in his office as he plans for the state convention.

Economics Discusses Inflation, Monetary Crisis

The Economics Department was headed by Dr. Ed. Corley. The department continued its role of introducing students to the principles of economics. Different types of economics, the economics of underdeveloped countries, financing, and other courses designed to formulate a better understanding of the theory and practice of eonomic thought were offered. No new courses were introduced, but one new instructor, Mr. Scott Clow, filled in for instructors who were on a leave of absence.

World Affairs, Campaigns Concern Political Scientists

The Political Science Department continued to instruct and involve students in political aspects of world governments. This department was headed by Dr. Joe Connelley, who ran as a successful Muskie delegate. One department member, Dr. Ping Chen will be absent this next year while he writes a book on the U.S. House Rules Committee. One new class, Political Campaign Participation, was added. This class gives one-hour credit for student participation in a political campaign for the party of his choice.

ROW 1: Joe Connelley, Margaret Soderburg, John R. Faust, Ping Chen. ROW 2: Larry Thorsen, Peter Leigh, Tom Scism, Abdul Lateef.

New Facilities Await Geography In Move

Under the leadership of Mr. Dalias Price, the Geology-Geography Department was on the verge of moving into the new quarters — the new wings of the Physical Science Building.

Once in the new building, the department will have a weather and climatology research center with proper instrumentation.

The department conducted field trips in many courses where the students could use practical application of classroom material. One new facet of the curriculum was the addition of lab courses in Geography which allowed the students to gain lab credit. One new course, Cultural Geography, has been added to the curriculum.

ROW 1: Franklin Hillenburg, Dewey Amos, Carl Swisher, Dallas Price, head, Mary Jo Reed, James Palmer, John Ford. ROW 2: Douglas Meyer, Gary Wallace, Elwyn Martin, Walter H. McDonald.

Library Science Masters Enrollment Now 29

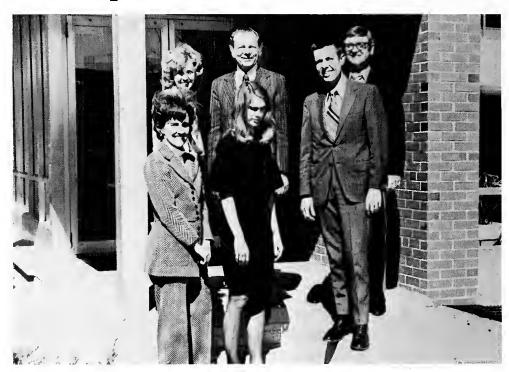

The Library Science Department was under the leadership of Dr. Frances Pollard. The department has a Master of Science in Library Science degree which is in its second year of operation. There are presently 29 students enrolled in the graduate program. The department offers a sequence of basic undergraduate courses for the preparation of certified librarians. Junior standing is a prerequisite for beginning a minor.

Frances M. Pollard, Richard W. Lawson, Beverly E. Miller, Sylvia Y. Kaplan.

Speech Pathology Adds Special Grad Course

Wayne Thurman once again served as head for the Speech Pathology Department. A special course for graduate students was taught for the first time this winter. The course was from the basic language catagory and was Special-Project-Speech Pathology and Audiology 575 and was taught by Dr. Lynn Miner, Director of Research and advisor to the graduate students.

Speech Week Becomes Annual Event

The Speech Department began to take an interest in the Women's Liberation movement with the teaching of a new course. The course is entitled Rhetoric of Women's Liberation and is taught on the graduate level. Two other new graduate courses being taught are Advanced Argument Theory and Teaching Speech at the College Level.

Speech Week, held in April, has now become an annual event, with students from high schools and colleges all over the state, participating in events and guest speakers from all over the country. Dr. Don Garner is now in his seventh year as department head.

Student Teaching Increases Inner-City Program

The present range of student teaching assignments is from Ladue, Mo., on the west to Brazil, Ind., on the east; from Mt. Vernon to the South to Chicago to the North. Many more participants are taking the inner city program, teaching in inner city Chicago. This program, newly developed, has increases by 50% over last year.

Student teaching gives an education major one quarter of supervises training before he begins the job of teaching. During this quarter he tries to apply classroom principles he has learned to actual situations. He begins to mold himself to the role of teacher. The Buzzard Laboratory School was a testing ground for many budding teachers. Here, under the direction of the Elementary Education Department, students observed and worked with students and faculty.

Education Faculty Includes Seven Departments

The Faculty for Professional Education is made up of seven departments. Dr. Harry Merigis was the dean. The departments are Education, Elementary and Junior High Education, Educational Psychology and Guidance, Administration and Supervision, Instructional Media, Laboratory School, and Student Teaching.

These departments are undergoing change because of the impending switch to semester system in 1973. They were also investigated during the year by the National Council for Accrediting Teacher Education. The results of that accrediation visit were not available at press time.

The Elementary Education Department set up a new flexible program. Under this program the superior students academically have only a minimum of required courses and more chance at electives.

Admission requirements for teacher education were raised this year. By the time a student has 142 hours he must have a 2.3 cumulative grade point, instead of 2.1 average.

Two new six-year specialsist degrees for educational psychology and guidance and for the instructional media were instigated.

Industrial Arts, Tech Overcome Problems

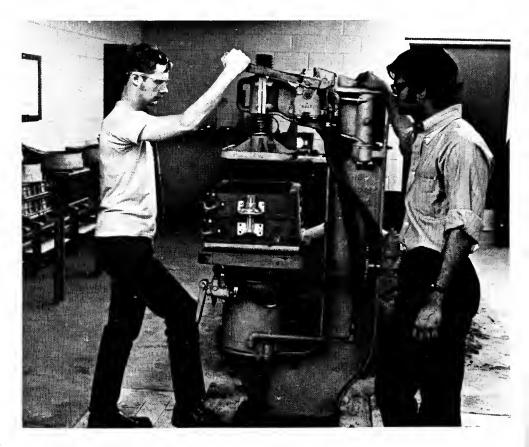

ROW 1: Tony Schwaller, Bryon Shuster, Howard Nelms, Robert Sonderman-Head of Industrial Arts, Charles Elliott. ROW 2: Gene Strandberg, Ewell Fowler, Raymond Griffin, Wayne Coleman—Dean of School of Industrial Arts and Technology.

The demand for instructors in many areas is low, but to the graduate of industrial arts in education, the field is very open. The demand for industrial arts instructors in public education is great.

Private industry donated machinery and equipment to start a new power laboratory. The students in industrial arts were the recipients of the equipment, and were able to expand their knowledge with the training it provided.

Despite the problems of the budget cut, shortages of instructors and increased enrollment in the classes, the departments continued to educate and graduate people to fill the nation's shortage of trained personnel.

Home Economics Has First Male Faculty Member

The School of Home Economics gained its first male staff member since its start on campus. Robert Butts, a graduate of Polytechnic Institute in Blacksburg, Va. is instructing Family Life Education. The Home Ec School also gained five new courses this year. They are -Consumer Problems, 400; Parent-Child Study, 454; Family and Crisis, 468; Administration of Child Care Programs, 459; and Family and Social Change, 367. Dr. Mary Ruth Swope, who completed a term as president of the national home economics association, completed her ninth year as Dean of the School.

Botany Continues Program Of Foreign Trips

The Botany Department was headed by Dr. William Scott. The department has a program which meets the student requirement of general sciences, and the courses needed for a Botany major. In the general botany classes, the audio-tutorial program has been very beneficial to both students and faculty. For botany majors, a trip to Monterey, Mexico, is offered. This trip is a cooperative program with students spending four weeks in class and six weeks at Mexico. Other foreign trips are made under guidance of Dr. Charles Arzeni.

Zoology Explores Animal Kingdom

Dr. William F. James joined the staff of the Zoology Department this year. Dr. James received his Ph.D. from the University of Tennessee and his field is Embryology. One new course offered for the first time this summer was a graduate course, Developmental Zoology. The Environmental Biology major under the Life Science Division also gained four new courses this year. This major is concerned with man and his relationship to his environment. It was indoctrinated for the first time at the beginning of this school year. Dr. G. T. Reigel began his ninth year as department head.

UPPER: ROW 1: Richard Funk, Frank Fraembs, Pamela Potts, High Rawls, Edward Moll. ROW 2: Stephen Whitley, Verne Kneskern, Max Ferguson, Robert Bollinger, William J. Keppler. School Of Business Adds Accounting Internship

The School of Business is divided into four different departments. These are Accounting, Business Education, (including Secretarial Studies) Management and Marketing.

The Accounting Department added a new program to their curriculum. It is entitled Internship in Accounting-490. The program allows seniors with a 2.66 grade point in accounting and 2.5 overall accumulative grade-point the chance to work in their field before graduation. The department has lined up a list of firms available which are participating in this program.

The Management Department, headed by William E. Green, gained four new instructors and one new course this year.

The four instructors are: Robert Lynch, area-Information systems and Computer Science, Frederick Stubbs, area-Corporate Finance, Steve Phillips, area-Industrial Engineering and Computer Systems, and Douglas Brown, area-personnel Management.

The one new course offered by the Management Department is Management 461, Management of Data Processing.

The Marketing Department, headed by Cliff Fagen, gained one new instructor and two new courses. The new instructor is James Spalding from Kent State University.

The two new courses which were added are — Advertisement Management and Product Marketing.

Clifford Fagan, marketing head, was the author of the Journal of Marketing, a publication of the American Marketing Association.

Graduate School In Good Shape Programwise

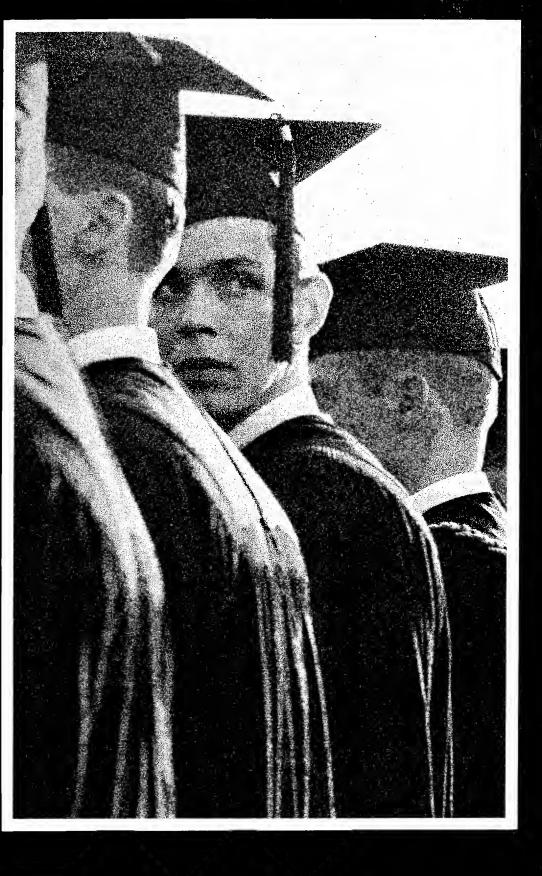

The Graduate School under the direction of Dean Lavern Hamand continued the programs for students desiring education beyond the bachelor degree level.

Due to budget cuts and job shortages for teachers, the program did not expand this year. Unlike many state graduate programs, however, the school is not in trouble.

The Council on Graduate Studies, which is the governing body of the grad school, is elected from the faculty. This group endeavored to switch courses from quarter to semester hours.

Dr. Francis W. Palmer 1910-1971

We of the Warbler staff wish to dedicate this book with its theme of visions and dream to Dr. Francis W. Palmer, who indeed had a vision, a vision of a journalism academic program on Eastern's campus. Through his efforts, many students have the chance to make their visions become a reality.

Specifications

The 1972 Warbler was produced by and for the Eastern Illinois University students, subsidized by student fees.

Walsworth Publishing Company of Marceline, Missouri, printed the books by offset photo-lithography.

Due to the economic situation, the 1972 Warbler had fewer pages than its predecessor. There were 16 pages of full color and 7 pages of special effect spot color. The cover is of two materials. It is quarter-bound with Cordova brown leatherette and has a four color picture imprinted on the front. The spine contains a blind embossing of the title and volume number.

The Warbler was divided into two books—Activities and People. These divisions, divided by the tip-in sheets, were subdivided into the various sections such as organizations, student life, and sports.

The press run remained at 7500 books

The Warbler is essentially a scrapbook a book composed of events happening to the student body as a whole during the year. The impersonal events are personalized by a student's own memory of his participation in the events.

The flours spent choosing a theme, planning the book, taking the pictures, and writing copy and heads are worthwhile if the Warbler succeeds in its goal—to help you remember this year at Eastern.

Many thanks go to the staff and photographers who created the ideas, copy, and pictures, spending long hours in Pern Hall Basement. Thanks also goes to Sudlow Studios and their staff for taking portrait and organization pictures. Mr. John Klumb of Walsworth Publishing Company was also very helpful, driving to Eastern several times to lend the staff a hand. Mr. Dan Thornburgh was once again advisor, helping greatly to coordinate efforts into a unified force to complete the book.

May each vision become a dream come true as the students of Eastern depart again—some to return, others to go on to a career. May the Warbler serve as a reminder of many pleasant memories as you recapture, page by page, the spirit of EIU in '72.

Sincerely,

Patricia Cummins-Co-Editor Dick Sandberg-Co-Editor
